WIDOW DIES AS FIREBUG HITS AGAIN

Firebug's Work—A 71-year-old widow and invalid, Mrs. Clara Bowers, collapsed and died today after she was rescued over a ladder from her home in West Newton st., South End, during a fire, branded the work of a firebug, which started in the first-floor apartment (here) of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sharpe. Arrows show where two of three fires set were started.

Tidelands Oil Scheme Bared

By RAY RICHARDS
Boston American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, April 12—The chief private backers of the Interior Department's attempted gigantic seizure of state tidelands were revealed by documents obtained in Washington as engaged in a nation-wide stock-selling campaign based on an oil-drilling application which was long ago denied. If the Interior Department's present Supreme Court suit wins, profits of promoters seeking to take over present state tidelands leases under new federal permits would be fabulous.

Truman Sticks To Dates for A-Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—President Truman, who once postponed atomic bomb tests in the Pacific, said today the tests are of vital importance and he had been assured the new target dates would be met.

He issued a formal statement on the subject, but without any explanation of why he selected this particular time to give his views. However, Sen. Huffman (D) of Ohio, recently introduced a resolution calling for cancellation of tests.

Mr. Truman said the experiments at Bikini atoll should provide information "essential to intelligent planning in the future and an evaluation of the effect of atomic energy on our defense establishments."

The first of two A-bomb tests against warships was set originally for May 15. Mr. Truman postponed it for about six weeks, saying many Congressmen wanted to witness the trials and couldn't do so at that time.

The joint Army-Navy task force for conducting the tests expects to hold the first one on July 1 or as near that date as weather permits. The initial experiment involves the explosion of an atom bomb in the air above the target ships. The second will be an underwater explosion.

Attlee, Bevin Confer With Dutch Leaders

LONDON, April 12 (INS)—Premier Willem Schermerhorn and other Dutch ministers were to confer today with Premier Attlee and Foreign Secretary Bevin on a plan to settle the Indonesian dispute.

Thus the documents clearly reveal the purely speculative and profit-seeking interests supporting and feeding on the Interior Department's move through the Justice Department's high court action.

EX-SENATORS INVOLVED

They also show that Harold L. Ickes as Interior Secretary and officials of the Justice Department went willingly along with the oil company promoters and its attorneys in urging the suit to give the federal government title to 100 billion dollars' worth of submerged and reclaimed tidal soil.

Involved in the case are the names of two former United States senators, while a third, now in the Senate, is directly active at present in the campaign to destroy state land rights.

The papers reveal that the principal private workers in behalf of the federal grab have been for years the Pacific Undersea Oil, Inc., and the Washington legal firm of Watson, King and Brode.

What one of the company's own officials thinks of the concern is shown in the photostat of a letter written last Jan. 23. In response to an inquiry, Dean Hole, a vitamin product dealer of Chicago, listed as secretary-treasurer of the Undersea Oil Company, wrote:

"Your question No. 1 asked for the latest financial statement of the 'Pacific Undersea Oil, Inc.' but to the best of my knowledge this outfit has no financial statement to render. It is, of course, a stock set-up, but it has no business, no bank account, and no money."

'Half-Strike' Has Company Dizzy

JACKSON, Mich., April 12 (AP)—A new type of "half-strike" had the Michigan labor mediation board baffled today.

About 100 employees of the Hinkley-Myers Manufacturing Co., Jackson, engaged in a wage dispute with the firm since last November, have never called a strike.

Instead, for three days they have reported for work every morning but quit cold in mid-afternoon, according to Carlyle A. Gray, secretary of the mediation board.

Truman at FD Shrine Gives New Deal Pledge

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 12 (AP)—President Truman vowed today to carry on Franklin D. Roosevelt's fight against "tyranny" abroad and for the "progressive and humane principles of the New Deal."

Standing in reverence at ceremonies dedicating "this hallowed spot"—the Roosevelt estate—as a national shrine on the first anniversary of Mr. Roosevelt's death, President Truman said:

"May almighty God, Who has watched over this republic as it grew from weakness to strength, give us the wisdom to carry on in the way of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

It was Mr. Truman's first trip to Hyde Park since he journeyed here a year ago for the burial of his predecessor.

"The loss America suffered through the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt cannot be softened by the spoken word," the President said. "Tributes can only emphasize our loss. But those of us who have survived in the seat of government can pay homage to his memory by our deeds."

Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy, he said, "recognized the solemn duty of this country toward nations which have been weakened in the death struggle against tyranny."

For these principles of international co-operation, Mr. Truman declared, "we are determined to fight with all our strength."

Mr. Roosevelt's domestic policy, he continued, was "a recognition of the basic truth that this government exists not for the benefit of a privileged few but for the welfare of all the people."

Mr. Truman linked up his own domestic program with the New Deal legislation for which he said Mr. Roosevelt fought. He asserted:

"Those same principles apply to legislation assuring full production and full employment, legislation for a health program, a social security program, an educational program, a program to provide emergency housing for veterans and to solve the long-range problem of decent homes for all Americans. These and other progressive measures stem from the principle for which President Roosevelt fought, for which we, who are carrying on after him, now fight, and for which we shall continue to fight."

"The nation's task is to carry forward the underlying principles and policies, foreign and domestic"

This Is America!

HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 12 (AP)—Amid the solemnity of the dedication of the Roosevelt estate today as a national shrine was one jangling note.

The U. S. Department of the Interior permitted a concessionaire to put up a tent on the lawn to sell hot dogs, soft drinks and coffee. The day was chilly and queues formed for hot coffee.

of his predecessor, Mr. Truman said.

He declared plain people all over the world join with leaders and statesmen in recognizing it was largely because of Roosevelt that civilization has survived, and added that "only history can do him full justice."

The New Deal, Mr. Truman said, became the realization of "the great hope" which "in an hour of extreme crisis" Mr. Roosevelt gave to the American people. Its principles "have today become an accepted part of our way of life," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt saw clearly, Mr. Truman said, "that we cannot continue to live isolated from other nations. He knew that what happens on other continents must affect the welfare of our country."

In accepting custody of the Roosevelt estate as a national historical site, Interior Secretary J. A. Krug stressed that it will be shared by people of all nations.

Mrs. Truman To Cook for Spanish Class

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—It looks like 60 students of Spanish will be treated to the first White House sample of Mrs. Bess Truman's famed home cooking.

But they won't get Missouri dishes. When they sit down to lunch at the White House a week from tomorrow, the menu will feature what their teacher, Ramon Ramos, calls pan-American food. Social secretaries say the dishes will be fixed by the First Lady herself and six or eight helpers from her own Spanish class. The versatile Prof. Ramos will supervise.

Miss Reathel Odum, White House secretary, doesn't know the menu, but (she guesses) "it'll be something full of garlic."

Meantime, the distaff side of the White House was busy today with other guests—Mrs. Truman's 10 friends of the Independence, Mo., Tuesday Bridge Club.

The energetic ladies, interested in everything but bridge, turned up all over town. Their schedule for the visit, which will end this week-end, still includes a ride on the presidential yacht and tea at Blair House.

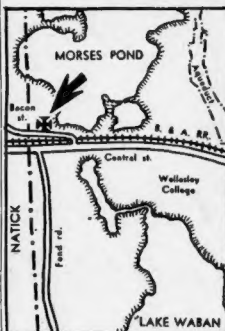

Mrs. Truman was beginning her second year as First Lady with a bang. Her secretaries told a news conference she's dated up almost every day through April.

As for Easter, the First Lady and Margaret have no new clothes and don't expect to buy any.

Mother Begg Aid To Find Missing Diabetic Boy, 7

PORTLAND, Me., April 12 (AP)—A frantic mother made a public appeal today for help in finding her seven-year-old son, a diabetic, missing since last night.

Mrs. Dorothy Barry reported the boy, Philip, strayed away from his Park st. home.

"Please tell Philip through your paper to come home at once," Mrs. Barry asked the Portland Express. "He must have his insulin every day and I am fearful that right now he may be roaming about in a semi-diabetic coma."

Neighbors and police aided Mrs. Barry in her search.

Firebug Hits Again, Aged Woman Dies

A cunning firebug struck again today in Boston, claiming the life of a 71-year-old widow in a lodging house blaze but a few blocks from the Back Bay spot where eight persons died similarly two days ago.

Mrs. Clara Bowers, elderly invalid, collapsed and died on the sidewalk after firemen had carried her down a ladder from her smoke-filled home in West Newton st. Her death was attributed to shock and a heart attack.

The blaze, officially branded the work of an arsonist, drove out three other persons after smoke was discovered pouring from the first floor apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sharpe. Three separate fires had been set.

The couple were not at home and their young daughter was at school. Firemen found two fires were set in a front room and another in a room partitioned off by curtains.

Driven out was William P. Harrington, another fourth floor occupant, and two other women whom firemen carried to safety over ladders from the third floor. The latter are Miss Julia McGrath, 62, and Miss Catherine Olgera. There are a total of 13 persons living in the house but the others were away at business or shopping when the fire broke out.

The fire followed by two days three other fires in the same area, one of which took eight lives.

It had been only a couple of hours earlier that Fire Com. Codman warned apartment house owners were endangering the lives of tenants by leaving front doors unlocked and furnishing dwellers only with keys to their own apartments.

He said he was studying city ordinances to see if it was not possible to make all apartment house owners keep main doors locked against drunks and firebugs.

Meanwhile, enthralled investigators pored through the analyzing record and love life of Wilfred H. Baetz, 35-year-old radio writer, charged with complicity in another fire, who waited vainly at Charles Street Jail for some of his admirers to come forward with $10,000 bail.

The dapper jack of all professions, who is charged with arson in connection with an Irvington st. blaze, was undismayed. He said he was sure that some one of the "more than 100 women that had fallen for his charms" would rescue him.

While he steadfastly denied all knowledge of the Belvidere st. apartment blaze where the eight died, police arrested a new suspect.

CRANSTON, R. I., April 12 (AP)—Three robbers held up a girl clerk in the office of the Cranston Loan Co., 300 yards from police headquarters this afternoon and escaped with $20,000 cash.

One robber remained on the sidewalk, while two, one masked and the other armed, entered and forced Assunta Maggicoma, 23, to lie on the floor, while they rifled the safe and cash drawers. They overlooked $4900 in one drawer.

While the holdup was in progress, an elderly woman entered the office. The man with the gun spoke a few words to her in Italian and then ordered her into a corner of the office.

The three fled in an automobile which later was found abandoned several blocks from the scene.

5-Year-Old Dog Lover Faces Parting

When a 5-year-old Malden lad phoned this newspaper today, he was crying.

"I have a dog," he said to the editor. "I want him for mine, but maybe someone else wants him." Mrs. Charles MacDonald of Seaview ave., Malden, then explained why little Freddie was so upset. One evening, three weeks ago, a Scottie came to their house. Freddie and his brothers, Robert, 11; William, 9; Charles, 14, and sister, Edna, 15, all wanted the dog.

Mrs. MacDonald put him out, but next day he was waiting at the door and since then has been the children's best little friend. They've never had a dog before.

Then in the Boston American the other day they saw a picture of Andrew Posner, 13, and his brother Robert, 6, of Blue Hill ave., Dorchester. The boys had lost their Scottie dog and looked so sad in the picture that the MacDonalds' hearts were touched.

"I am sad because I want my dog, but I am also sad for the other little boys if it is their dog," said Freddie. "I would feel bad, too, if a little dog left me. Could my dog be their dog?"

let a federal agency settle the dispute involving rehiring of a returned non-union GI.

The walkout of food handlers and stevedores at the Boston Market Terminal was in sympathy with fellow union members employed by the Railroad Perishable Inspection Agency employed at the Charlestown Terminal, where the non-union man had been given his prewar job despite union protests.

A labor committee of the Boston Market Terminal called in union men and representatives of the Inspection Agency and both agreed to abide by whatever finding is made by the federal agency to which the dispute is referred. The committee is not as yet sure whether it will be referred to the Veterans Administration or Selective Service.

A union spokesman said that, pending decision of the federal authority, the union man let by H. Harris Auction Co., which operates under the inspection agency, to make way for the veteran will return to work. The veteran, he said, will go to the bottom of the call list.

The discharged veteran was given back his job despite union protests. Before going into service he was turned down for union membership and his induction halted a test case.

When he was rehired the union said the GI Bill of Rights conflicted with union regulations which state, according to a union spokesman, "no union man must loaf while a non-union man is working."

Half an hour after it was announced the strike had been settled food trucks began rolling out of the terminal with produce destined for points in New Hampshire, Vermont, Maine and Rhode Island.

More than 200 freight cars were in the yards adjacent to the terminal and 100 others were expected to arrive before nightfall. The food, which for a time was thought lost, will be moved with all speed and the threatened shortage of produce in New England markets has been averted.

Dog's Reprieve In Will Ends

PHILADELPHIA, April 12 (AP)—Kochie, aquat and fat little Boston terrier, has been put to sleep despite revocation of the death sentence once imposed by her mistress.

Kochie—pronounced Cokie—was the property of Mrs. Anna L. Kochersperger, a widow, who in 1942 wrote in her will:

"It is my wish that my little Kochie be put to sleep as I think she will be unhappy without me." She changed her mind seven months later and directed in a codicil that at her death the dog be given to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stine.

Mr. Stine hadn't heard of the codicil. He took charge of Kochie upon Mrs. Kochersperger's death last month but then moved to a one-room apartment and found it too crowded for a pet.

Kochie was sent to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and was put to death yesterday just as Mrs. Kochersperger's will was probated, dividing her $18,000 estate between Northern Home for Friendless Children and the SPCA.

Padded Girdle Among 500 Gadgets at Inventor's Show

CHICAGO, April 12 (AP)—The world's invention exposition, after an absence of 15 years, opened at the Chicago arena yesterday with a bumper display of the pet brainchild of more than 500 inventors.

Many of the gadgets, machines and devices are intended to make easier and safer the jobs in the home and office. Others seek to capitalize on feminine vanity.

One of these is a girdle padded in the correct places to provide curves. Another is an appliance for spectacles which the inventor says "will stand the squeeze better than any other spectacle frame."

One inventor has on exhibit rear view mirrors to be attached to spectacles so the wearer can see who is sneaking up from behind.

Among devices designed to lighten the housewife's labor are collapsible scissors, sliding fireplace screens, a stove with revolving oven, a clothes line holder and a shopping cart that carries both groceries and baby. The cart can be converted into a jumping device for Junior.

Other articles include an electric eraser, an automatic stoker signal and a chair in which an invalid can walk, sit or sleep. The exposition will continue until April 22.

GI Eater's Fame Leads Wife to Ask for Decree

WORCESTER, April 12—The publicity which resulted from her husband's prodigious eating demonstrations caused her extreme embarrassment and humiliation, Mrs. Rita Salvatore, 26, of Oxford, testified today in probate court here where she is seeking an uncontested divorce from Chester Salvatore, 32, of Southbridge.

Mrs. Salvatore told Judge Carl E. Wahlstrom that after the newspapers ran stories about the tremendous appetite of her husband, then in the Army, she was besieged by telephone calls, telegrams, reporters and photographers. The public notice, she testified made her uncomfortable and ill.

Her husband, she told the court, had developed a terrible ego since his nationwide fame as "champion eater of the Army." She testified that when they were married in February, 1944, she had no knowledge of his tremendous appetite and declared that at home he ate normally.

While stationed near Atlanta, Ga., with the Army, Salvatore last July amazed spectators when he tucked away seven orders of fried chicken, 10 orders of French fries, nine glasses of orange juice, two quarts of milk, 10 combination salads, two orders of olives, two glasses of iced coffee, two slices of watermelon, five orders of rolls and five slabs of apple pie a la mode.

Mrs. Salvatore asked for custody of their 2-year-old daughter, Loretta, and $7 weekly support. She told the court her husband works in a Southbridge woolen mill days and plays a trumpet with an orchestra nights.

The petition was taken under advisement.

Revere Cafes Told To Close on Time

The Revere Licensing Board has warned all liquor dealers holding both club and innholder licenses that lax observance of closing hours will result in license suspensions immediately.

was in response to questions put by the Governor, who interrupted his direct examination in the euster proceedings which Tobin instituted on charges of inefficiency and for the "good of the service."

The commissioner's examination proceeded calmly enough until he testified that on several occasions last year he had been asked by a former Tobin secretary to "step down" and take an associate commissionership so the Governor could "put in his own man."

The defense completed its case at 1:30 p. m. and Gov. Tobin adjourned the hearing until 4 p. m. so counsel could attend the funeral of Judge Nelson P. Brown. Final arguments will start at 4 p. m.

The clash between MacDonald and the Governor came during questioning of the commissioner about the letting of concessions at Logan Airport.

MacDonald testified that John B. Breen, a Congress st. real estate dealer, had written asking him for information about whom to contact among the airport planners regarding concessions, saying he had several clients interested in renting space.

"We came to the conclusion we should engage three experts to study the matter," MacDonald said. "I talked with the Governor about it and he told me to do nothing without talking to him."

"Didn't I suggest to you that Harvard Business School might be a good organization to make the study?" asked the Governor.

"That came up later," MacDonald said. "We had a conference six weeks ago with the Harvard business people and airline officials."

MacDonald then testified that Eugene Hudson, former chief secretary of the Governor and now a superior court judge, had called him and told him to do nothing about concessions without talking to Tobin and he replied he already had made that arrangement with the Governor.

"I have been Governor for 18 months," Tobin interrupted again.

"During that time have I ever made any dishonorable request of you?"

MacDonald hesitated momentarily and the Governor exclaimed peevishly:

"Answer that question 'yes' or 'no.' You should be able to answer that."

"Yes," MacDonald snapped. "You insisted that a man related to a maid in your house be appointed a foreman. He wasn't a senior on the list but he was appointed, although I warned you it would cause dissension."

"You made me discharge a building superintendent who was doing a good job. Your man came down the next day and took his place."

"I'm not familiar with that case," the Governor said. "Who in my office talked to you about it?"

"I think it was Mr. Falvey" (Secretary John Falvey).

"How old was the man? Beyond the retirement age?"

"I don't know, but I know he was doing a good job. I wanted to give him two weeks' notice, but your office ordered him fired right away, and he was."

"As Governor, did I ever once ask you to do something in a material way that you considered wrong?"

"My answer to that would be 'no.' Did any of my secretaries talk to you about the Sutcliffe matter?"

MacDonald, who had testified in direct examination that the full Board of Public Works Commissioners held a public hearing on the petition of the Sutcliffe

Father, Son, 8, Join Girl in Hospital

The father and 8-year-old brother of Caren V. Bears, 4, who died suddenly Monday, apparently from food poisoning, are in Cambridge City Hospital today where they were taken last night suffering from severe stomach cramps.

In the hospital with them is Carol Ann, twin sister of Caren and the daughter of George V. Bears, 361 Western ave. She was ordered there last Monday by Dr. Patrick J. Fleming, city physicians, who also ordered the father and his son, Harry, to the hospital last night.

Dr. Fleming went to the Bears' home in Western ave. after the father telephoned police for a doctor.

Cause of Caren's death and the illness of other members of the family still remains undetermined. An autopsy failed to disclose the cause of Caren's death and stomach organs were sent to state pathologists for a chemical analysis. Dr. Fleming said he expected it would be at least a week before the analysis was completed.

Bears told police that the family ate chicken the day before the children were taken ill, and portions of this food are also under examination for traces of poison.

Mrs. Bears and a 2-week-old baby daughter, Kathleen, are under observation at home, but so far have complained of no ill effects.

WALKERS THROUGH

—have learned that it's always bargain time in Filene's Automatic Bargain Basement. They have learned there is no thrill like that of coming unexpectedly upon a "just the item" they have been looking for and finding it "for less" than they expected to pay. Mrs. Y—told us of her great satisfaction the other day finding a beautiful brown blouse, she had practically shopped the town. Even she came to Filene's Basement and there for $2.99 was a brown blouse like the white model at $4.95. In-moment she exclaimed summed it up poignantly "My goodness, imagine all the money I have saved by coming down here!" Walking through Filene's Basement daily you may have the experience of suddenly coming across a "coat that was made for you" or a pair of shoes that "fit like a glove" and find that they are not only satisfactory in every way, but bargains as well. You appear in the office in a new dress—you are inspected cautiously—and you chuckle with glee at the amazement when you tell everybody that the dress is from 50 and 50's high grade specialty shop stock down in Filene's Basement for only $19.75 as did Miss — recently. One of her Saturday afternoon-off chores is to walk through this unique basement and she rarely misses the thrill and some of her fashion scope bought under- priced have her working associates wondering how she does it! The father of eight who keeps his bread well and fashionably outfitted buying $1.69 slips and other necessities on a recent walk through—while nearby a society woman tops off her new outfit with a luxurious three-skin mink scarf emphasizing their elegance compared to others shopped elsewhere with far more expensive price tags—A "walk through" may bring that dream of a gorgeous evening frock, true—five stock may bring that size 11 shoe for that boy going to prep—a clearance may include coats sizes 50 and 52—when you sell thousands and thousands of bargains daily of which only a few are advertised, it's just plain common sense that if you want to make sure of getting these bargain treasures that have made this a #1 retail bargain American treasure hunt, the thing to do is to follow the "Walkers Through" who have learned it's always bargain time in Filene's Basement.

Hope to Avert Sugar Strike

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP)—Hope of averting a threatened strike of 8000 CIO and AFL workers at seven Atlantic coast sugar refineries halting two-thirds of the country's production, was expressed today by U. S. Conciliator Frank E. Walsh.

Walsh said he based his hope on a meeting he had arranged for this afternoon with union representatives at the U. S. conciliation service office here.

Refineries involved are three in Philadelphia, two in Boston and one each in Baltimore and New York.

Vote Tomorrow May End Whitin Strike

WHITINSVILLE, April 12 (AP)—Members of the United Steel Workers' Union, CIO, will vote tomorrow on a tentative contract proposal to break the 88-day-old strike at the Whitin Machine Works.

The basis of settlement is reported to be 73 cents an hour minimum wage; general wage increase of 12 cents an hour on top of the seven cents an hour increase given Dec. 31; the union will waive its maintenance clause and the management will agree to a voluntary irrevocable check-off; two cents an hour for elimination of inequities.

New Labor Policy Needed, Stassen Tells Maine G.O.P.

BANGOR, Me., April 12—Republicans must adopt a new labor policy for the nation and support an agricultural policy based on high production and development of volume markets, former Gov. Stassen of Minnesota declared today at the Republican state convention.

Stassen, frequently mentioned as a 1948 Republican presidential candidate, declared an alert and dynamic government leadership could assure full employment in the sense of real job opportunities for every citizen.

Charging "administrative ineptness and bungling in labor relations since V-J Day" had produced a minimum $5,000,000,000 loss in the American standard of living, Stassen urged his party to adopt a progressive labor policy, safeguarding and developing the rights of the individual worker.

Declaring the present extreme demands for food would be filled in the next two or three years, Stassen recommended development of an agricultural policy to meet the needs of later years and safeguards to prevent any repetition of shortages.

The United Nations, he said, was not perfect but it was mankind's present "best hope" for lasting peace and progress.

ADM. COLBERT CONFIRMED

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—R. Adm. Leo O. Colbert, Boston, Mass., was confirmed by the Senate for another four-year term as director of the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

2 Isolate 'Most Deadly Poison'

CLEVELAND, April 12 (AP)—Tetanus toxin, a poison described as being so powerful an ounce could kill the entire population of the United States, has been isolated in pure crystalline form, Western Reserve University reported today.

The school said Dr. Louis Pillemer, assistant professor of immunochemistry, and two graduate students, Miss Ruth C. Wittler and Donald B. Grossberg, had isolated the toxin.

By treatment with formaldehyde, the toxin is transformed into a highly valuable protective agent against lockjaw, Dr. Pillemer said.

Baruch Maps Bomb Rule From Park Bench 'Office'

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP)—The American representative to the United Nations atomic energy commission lolled in the sun in his "air-conditioned office," surrounded by pigeons and playing children, and pondered upon a possible world atomic policy.

The statesman was tall, white-haired Bernard Baruch, who has established the "office" of the U. S. delegation to the commission in Central Park near the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

For some time the 75-year-old financier has been receiving callers and tackling his new job on the park bench, a counterpart to his wartime "office" in Washington's Lafayette Park, from which he handled the problem of manpower, the rubber shortage and lagging airplane production. He said yesterday he had a plan—as yet still vague—to avert a possible atomic calamity and he would report upon it to President Truman and perhaps some day to the United Nations.

As he spoke, he pointed to the children playing near his "office." "These are my clients," he said. "These are the ones who will be affected by what we do."

Baruch kept an appointment yesterday with Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., National Housing chairman of the American Veterans' committee, and Morris V. Rosenbloom, former Navy lieutenant now associated with Roosevelt in his work.

At one point in the discussion on veterans' housing, Baruch and his visitors strolled away from the bench. When they returned a woman was sitting there with a baby carriage in front of her.

"Oh, oh, someone's taken the office," Baruch said.

The woman, however, soon moved to the next bench

Himmler Aide's Testimony Ends

NUERNBERG, April 12 (AP)—Ernst Kaltenbrunner concluded his testimony before the International Military Tribunal today with the statement he remained in his job as lieutenant to Heinrich Himmler "because I considered it my duty to stay and fight the wrong after I found out what conditions existed."

The American prosecution immediately attacked Kaltenbrunner's statement that he had no personal knowledge of concentration camp horrors by presenting affidavits from former inmates and employees at Mauthausen, stating they had often seen him there.

Prisoners said Kaltenbrunner once witnessed three kinds of executions.

A former crematory employee said Kaltenbrunner "went into the gas chamber laughing" to see one execution and later watched hangings and shootings in the back of the neck. Kaltenbrunner denied each affidavit.

New Ointment for Burns Announced

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 12 (AP)—Development of a new "acid ointment" for burns, which removes dead skin painlessly—without need of a surgeon's knife or brushing—was announced today to the American Chemical Society.

The ointment—for treatment of second degree burns—was described by Drs. Albert M. Matlocks and Wilbur A. Lazier of Southern Research Institute, Birmingham, Ala.

Pair Arraigned For Beating Cop

Charged with taking part in a near riot on a subway train, during which 11 youths mauled and kicked a policeman, William Sapiano, 26, and Arthur Caranelo, 23, of Summer st., East Boston, were arraigned in East Boston district court today. Their cases were continued.

Patrolman Arthur Cadigan of the East Boston station captured the pair despite the odds against him and his assorted injuries, including a fractured nose, fractured right index finger, concussion and possible internal injuries.

He is at City Hospital. Meanwhile, police have rounded up nine other alleged participants in the fracas, who will appear in court tomorrow.

Police said that Cadigan, in uniform, was on his way to report for duty when the gang started breaking lights. He tried to stop them and as the train reached Maverick station, the group rushed him.

Doug to Diet?

TOKYO (April 12 (AP))—Incomplete returns today from scattered Tokyo precincts in Japan's general election gave Gen. MacArthur a 1200 per cent lead over President Truman for a seat in the Diet.

MacArthur received 12 votes, Truman one.

Both were edged out by hunger. Thirteen ballots were marked "more food!"

33 Tojo Men Win Diet Seats

TOKYO, April 12 (AP)—Thirty-three members of the 1942 "Tojo Diet" definitely were re-elected and 40 other former members were returned to the House of Representatives on the basis of final returns tonight from all but six districts in the nation-wide election.

Conservatives apparently had clinched a majority, although the leading Liberal party was nowhere near control.

With 394 of the House of Representatives' 468 seats decided, women had won 32.

By tonight the party lineup of definitely won seats was Liberals 116, Progressives 86, Social Democrats 78, Communists three, with three others apparently certain of victory; minor parties 39 and independents 72.

at a christening party in July, 1944, when she found her husband sitting on the back porch with a young man, Mrs. Marceline F. Muirhead of Shepton st., Dorchester, testified in Suffolk probate court today where she was granted an uncontested divorce from Donald T. Muirhead. She testified the woman later asked her to get a divorce. In a quarrel over the woman, Mrs. Muirhead said, her husband knocked her down. She testified her husband told her he wanted a divorce, but had no intention of remarrying.

The divorcee was also given custody of a daughter, Pauline, 16, and $75 a month for the child's support.

The petition of Mrs. Shirley Goldberg of Norfolk st., Dorchester, was held up pending appearance of an identifying witness who had accompanied a deputy sheriff who served the papers on Samuel F. Goldberg of Brookline. Her husband went in the Army in 1942, and while stationed in Boston began keeping late hours. Mrs. Goldberg testified. When she questioned him he told her the Army had a "physical education program" that required night work in a gymnasium. She testified she found lipstick on his handkerchiefs, but when she questioned him he hit her.

Mrs. Jeanette Farrow of Chambers st., West End, was granted a divorce from ex-Marine Mortimer Farrow on grounds of cruelty. She testified that on the evening of their wedding she reminded him it was time to catch the train for their honeymoon and he told her to "shut up" and slapped her.

The next morning, she said, he asked for money and when she said she had none he twisted her arm. She said she hasn't seen him since May 1.

Toledo Voters O. K. Payroll Tax

TOLEDO, O., April 12 (AP)—The city's controversial 1 per cent income-payroll tax continued in effect today after residents voted approval of the city-council-imposed levy in a special referendum election yesterday.

Nearly one-half of Toledo's 136,000 qualified voters participated, and unofficial returns showed 37,985 ballots favoring the tax to 32,692 against it.

The result represented a defeat for the CIO-Political Action Committee which sponsored the referendum to nullify the measure which became effective March 1.

The tax assesses 1 per cent of salaries, wages or commissions earned in Toledo, including all business and corporation profits, payroll deductions and declarations of estimated earnings by those not classed as employees.

Pink Snakes

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 12 (AP)—America now has a new sports model snake.

Dr. H. C. Bryant, superintendent of the Grand Canyon National Park, told members of the Tucson Natural History Society it is pink and has been called Grand Canyon Rattler.

"The colony of pink rattlesnakes were living comfortable secluded lives deep in the canyon, on a strata of red rock—perhaps explaining their (protective) coloration," he explained.

2 Children Killed In N.Y. Tenement Fire

NEW YORK, April 12 (INS)—A defective stove caused a fire in a tenement which snuffed out the lives of two children. Two other children, among five left alone, were treated for smoke inhalation.

Killed were Robert Radike, two months old, and his aunt, June O'Donnell, 11.

Tidelands

value of which application is entirely problematical."

Promoter of the company is E. J. Preston of California, Utah and Wyoming, who took possession of the entire 4,000,000-share issue of stock when the concern was incorporated several years ago in Nevada, changing its name from Preston's original Nevada Metals Recovery, Inc.

James E. Watson, former senator from Indiana, head of the legal firm representing the company here, is the registered owner of 75,000 shares.

The estate of the late Samuel A. King, former third member of the firm, holds 185,000 shares. Mr. King's brother, former Senator William H. King of Utah, is registered owner of 30,000 shares. Watson is a close friend of the present Indiana senator, Hon. E. Capewell, who has introduced two Senate resolutions denying traditional state title to submerged and reclaimed tidal lands, which include areas holding important business and industrial sections of the country's biggest cities.

After hearings in February, the Senate judiciary committee is to meet Monday to vote a report on the quitclaim measure.

The Capewell resolution proposes that Congress do nothing about it pending the outcome of the government's Supreme Court suit accusing the State of California of trespass on federal lands in issuing tideland oil leases. The suit affects all states with tidelands.

John L. Madden, assistant attorney general for Louisiana, now in Washington as the tidelands representative of the National Association of Attorneys General, which opposes the federal grab, said today:

"We have been at a loss to find out the true sources and motives of the opposition to the quitclaim legislation, and I shall communicate the information in these documents to the attorneys general who are supporting the quitclaim resolution. I shall suggest inquiry by them in their states."

The documents obtained in Washington show that on June 26, 1937, Preston applied for a federal lease on 2560 acres of submerged oil land off Huntington Beach, held by private operators under state lease.

The application was denied because the Interior Dept. at that time had not concluded, as Secretary Ickes finally did in 1945, that all tidal lands belong to the federal government despite precedent and Supreme Court decisions to the contrary dating back to the formation of the original 13 states.

In the records of the Interior Dept. the application is now marked merely "on appeal," but this vague prospect is the sole basis on which, the documents say, stock is being sold across the country at 5 cents per share par.

Official records show sales of stock in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, New York, Utah, Oregon and Illinois.

Robert W. Kenny, attorney general of California, reported the company has been given no corporation commission permit to sell the stock there.

The Security Exchange Commission at New York city stated that the stock is unlisted there, and therefore sales are not under legal control.

The stock-selling campaign has been concentrated particularly in New York state in recent weeks.

A photostat of one investigator's report says:

"I found on calling at the Los Angeles offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission and talking to Mr. Black that they had a very thick file concerning Mr. Preston and his activities, and were highly suspicious that he had been quite active in peddling his securities throughout the western United States, and indulging in financial transactions outside the law.

"Mr. Preston has neglected to secure approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission, or of the Division of Corporations in any of the states, except that several years ago he was granted permission to sell 300,000 shares of the Pacific Under Sea Oil, Inc., in Utah. His permit in Utah was cancelled before he completed his sales."

Photostats of letters show that, commencing in 1939, the law firm of Watson, King and Brode, principally through personal calls by Mr. King, exerted pressure on the Interior and Justice Departments to file the Supreme Court suit.

A letter from the late Samuel A. King to Preston on October 11, 1939, sounded the continuing note of close co-operation between the oil permit claimants and the Interior and Justice Departments. It said:

"In all our conferences and associations with officials of the Department of Justice we have had the hearty co-operation and loyal support of Mr. Margold, the solicitor in the Interior Department, who is the legal adviser of the Secretary of the Interior."

Another 1939 letter from Mr. King to Preston said:

"We feel that the information which we were able to give has been of very great benefit to the government."

"We have been received with the utmost cordiality and respect, and have been requested to co-operate fully with the government in its investigations. This we have done and are doing, and from the information received we feel fully warranted in concluding that the government will, in the very near future, begin legal proceedings, more than likely in the Supreme Court of the United States, to settle finally the title and ownership of all these lands."

Wife's Death Told in Fraud Trial of Bible Scholar

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12 (AP)—The trail of Gospel-quoting Alfred L. Cline, charged with forgery and grand theft, focused today on the death of one of two wives from whose estates it is contended he stole a fortune. Testimony as to the death of wealthy Mrs. Eva Delora Krebs Cline of Chicago was introduced as the prosecution sought to prove he forged stock certificates in order to milk her estate after her death. The 56-year-old ex-convict and former choirmaster is charged in Dallas, Tex., with the murder of Mrs. Krebs Cline. Prosecution witnesses yesterday supported the State's contention the wealthy Mrs. Krebs Cline was cremated by Cline's order under the name of Mrs. Alice W. Carpenter in Dallas on Oct. 17, 1944. Asst. Dist. Atty. Elkington charged Cline forged Mrs. Krebs Cline's name to stock affidavits in February, 1945, five months after her death. She left an estate of $323,000. Gerald W. Christian, Dallas funeral director, identified a photograph which the prosecution said showed Mrs. Krebs Cline as a picture of the woman Cline instructed him to cremate.

Elkington showed the witness a picture of Mrs. Carpenter of Bloomington, Ind., and Christian said:

"I have never seen this woman." Another witness, Mrs. Mabel E. Chase of Tampa, Fla., said her old friend, Mrs. Carpenter, told her she was leaving Tampa on a trip with Cline Feb. 10, 1944, and that it had been established Mrs. Carpenter died and was cremated in Macon, Ga., Feb. 21, 1944.

Shown the photograph of the woman Christian said he had never seen Mrs. Chase, who was executrix of Mrs. Carpenter's estate, said:

"That is Alice Carpenter—absolutely."

The other wife who property certificates Cline is accused of forging was Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt Lewis Cline of Oakland.

Fore River Faces Extended Layoffs

Because of cancellation of the Navy contract for the super heavy cruiser USS Dallas, hundreds of Fore River shipyard workers faced the prospect of an extended lay-off today. Yard officials said the ship was 12 per cent completed when the "stop work" order came. Construction was halted in line with recent Navy orders that all vessels less than 50 per cent completed be scrapped. The contract for the Dallas called for an expenditure of $30,000,000, about $5,000,000 of which already has been spent, it was reported.

Bronx Is Sorry

NEW YORK, April 12 (INS)—Bronx Borough President James J. Lyons expressed disappointment today that the United Nations Security Council had decided to leave the borough of the cheer.

He commented, however: "History will record that the Bronx was the first capital of the world."

Henry Ford, Sr., Married 58 Years

DETROIT, April 12 (AP)—Henry and Clara Bryant Ford observed the 58th anniversary of their marriage and Mrs. Ford's 79th birthday at their home, Fairlane, in Dearborn.

Ford, who will be 83 July 30, first met Clara Bryant, daughter of a neighboring farmer, at a dance in suburban Greenfield in 1885. He often remarks that for him it was "a case of love at first sight."

"It wasn't for me," says Mrs. Ford; "he made absolutely no impression on me at the time and I didn't see him again until a year later." Then, she adds, she decided he was "different from other young men."

Coast Guard Faces Big Slash

All members of the enlisted Reserve of the United States Coast Guard, and certain members of the regular unit, will be discharged by May 22, it was learned from Washington today.

The slash in personnel, which will completely wipe out the enlisted SPAR group, will bring the Coast Guard strength down from a wartime peak of 180,000 to 19,000. The slash was made necessary by lack of appropriations.

The economy program will also cause the tying up of 27 Coast Guard vessels in the Boston district and reduce the air force by more than 50 per cent. Hardest hit will be the air-sea rescue unit which will lose the use of the well-known cutters Harriet Lane, Argo, Thetis, Algonquin, Dix, Legare and the tug Kaw.

The only 125-foot cutter left will be Gen. Greene, which will be available for duty from the Canadian border to Westerly, R. I.

Capt. Arthur G. Hall, chief of staff to R. Adm. W. N. Derby, District Coast Guard officer of the Boston district, admitted the vessels are being tied up. He believes that the tieup is temporary and expressed hope many of them would be back in service by next September.

Nantucket Boat Ass'n Accepts Boost Offer

NEW BEDFORD, April 12 (AP)—Wage increases ranging from $10 to $20 a month were contained in a 12-month contract accepted today by members of the New Bedford Woods Hole, Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket Assn. (AFL), employed by the Mass. Steamship lines.

The increases went to all employees up to second mates. There were some dissenting voices and a few deck hands stated they would quit, in support of their demands for larger increases or an eight-hour day.

Navy Re-Enlistees May Get Old Ratings

Lt. Com. J. F. Sargent announced a change in Navy recruiting regulations today. He said it now was possible for men honorably discharged from the regular Navy to reenlist with the rating held on the date of discharge, even though more than 90 days have elapsed, providing the rating still is open. If the rating at the time of discharge is closed, he added, lower ratings in the same group frequently are open.

47 British Mutineers Held for Discipline

LONDON, April 12 (AP)—An official inquiry into the refusal of nearly 400 British soldiers to sail for the Orient on the transport Corfu this week has resulted in an order for 47 sergeants and corporals to be held for discipline.

All the other demonstrators, who complained of crowded conditions, sailed today on the Durban Castle with 1400 prisoners of war being repatriated to Italy.

B. & M. Bid for Old Colony Seen in 10-Point Stock Rise

Hints made during the recent Boston Railroad Holding Co. hearing that the Boston & Maine will seek an opportunity to buy the Old Colony line were seen today as the reason for a 10-point rise in Old Colony stock in the past two months.

Old Colony stock, quoted between 1½ to 5 in January, closed strongly yesterday at 15, revealing a rise in interest in the future of the southeastern Massachusetts railway.

Sharpest rise in the stock's value came last month, concurrent with hearings on a bill that would liquidate the Boston Railroad Holding Co. Testimony disclosed the New Haven, which operates the Old Colony, controls 26 per cent of the B. & M. common stock.

Asked during the hearing if the Boston & Maine would take over the Old Colony, Pres. Edward French of the B. & M. said:

"Should any person in authority make such a proposal, the Boston & Maine would study it even if 26 per cent were not interested."

Bentley W. Warren, president of the Boston & Providence, also said at the hearing that, "We want the holding company dissolved because we believe once the death grip of the New Haven is removed, the Boston & Maine will be ready and anxious to buy the Boston & Providence and the Old Colony."

Warren told the Boston American today it was "not unreasonable" to assume the rise in Old Colony stock reflected new public hope for the line in the event its ownership should change.

Action on the bill to dissolve the holding company is now pending by the legislature committee on transportation.

GI at Lichfield Tells of Beating

LONDON, April 12 (AP)—JFC Clarence B. Smith of Big Raids, Mich., testified at a United States Army court-martial today S-Sgt. James M. Jones of Muskogee, Okla., struck him with a wooden club at the Lichfield detention camp in January, 1945.

Testifying at Jones' trial on charges of mistreating 6 prisoners in the Lichfield stockade.

"I was either tripped or slipped on the wet gravel and fell. Jones made a vulgar remark and struck me with the club while I was on my hands and knees," said Smith.

Higher Hub Taxes Near, Warns Carven

Complete co-operation by all municipal departments and employees was called today by Budget Comm. Rep. S. Carven, who warned that unless the present economy program is strictly adhered to Boston will face higher tax rates.

"As far as I care," Carven said, "the only peas interested in saving the taxpayers' money are Mayor Curley, Auditor Fox and a few other officials. Unless something is done to save the taxpayers' money, scores of people will lose the homes because of higher taxes."

B. & M. Bid for Old Colony Seen in 10-Point Stock Rise

Hints made during the recent Boston Railroad Holding Co. hearing that the Boston & Maine will seek an opportunity to buy the Old Colony line were seen today as the reason for a 10-point rise in Old Colony stock in the past two months.

Old Colony stock, quoted between 1 1/2 to 5 in January, closed strongly yesterday at 15, revealing a rise in interest in the future of the southeastern Massachusetts railway.

Sharpest rise in the stock's value came last month, concurrent with hearings on a bill that would liquidate the Boston Railroad Holding Co. Testimony disclosed the New Haven, which operates the Old Colony, controls 26 per cent of the B. & M. common stock.

Asked during the hearing if the Boston & Maine would take over the Old Colony, Pres. Edward French of the B. & M. said:

"Should any person in authority make such a proposal, the Boston & Maine would study it even if 26 per cent were not interested."

Bentley W. Warren, president of the Boston & Providence, also said at the hearing that, "We want the holding company dissolved because we believe once the death grip of the New Haven is removed, the Boston & Maine will be ready and anxious to buy the Boston & Providence and the Old Colony."

Warren told the Boston American today it was "not unreasonable" to assume the rise in Old Colony stock reflected new public hope for the line in the event its ownership should change.

Action on the bill to dissolve the holding company is now pending by the legislature committee on transportation.

Gl at Lichfield Tells of Beating

LONDON, April 12 (AP)—FC Clarence B. Smith of Big Raids, Mich., testified at a United States Army court-martial today S-Sgt. James M. Jones of Muskogee, Okla., struck him with a wooden club at the Lichfield detention camp in January, 1943.

Testifying at Jones' trial on charges of maltreating prisoners in the Lichfield skade,

"I was either tripped or slipped on the wet gravelled fell. Jones made a vulgar remark and struck me with the club while I was on my hands and knees," said Smith.

Higher Hub Ties Near, Warns Carven

Complete co-operation by all municipal departments and employees was called today by Budget Comm. Rep. S. Carven, who warned that the present economy program is strictly adhered to Boston if higher tax rates.

"As far as I care," Carven said, "the only person interested in saving the taxpayers' money are Mayor Curley, City Auditor Fox and a few other officials. Unless something is done to save the taxpayers' money, scores of people will lose their homes because of higher taxes."

Man, Wife, Both Die In Vermont Car Crash

WESTMINSTER, April 12 (AP)—Three persons were killed and one injured in collision of two autos last night two miles south of here on U.S. Highway 5.

Dead were Burt M. Holway, 41; his wife, Edna 37, both of Putney, and Howard Johnson, 18, of Bellows Falls and Walpole, N. H.

Transportation Co. for a 20-year lease on exclusive ground transportation at Logan Airport and denied it, answered in the negative.

"What's the need of bringing the Sutcliffe matter in here, anyway?" Tobin asked.

"Why your excellency," replied Atty Russell S. Coffin, one of MacDonald's counsel, "we consider that a part of this case. Our client has been accused of inefficiency and delay. All these matters are pertinent to the inquiry."

Coffin then resumed his direct examination and MacDonald testified he had never in his long career in public life been accused of inefficiency until the Governor's charges were made last month.

Earlie MacDonald had been asked if he ever conferred with the Governor and he answered he met him once or twice each month to discuss the highway program.

"Did you ever confer with John Deeley, who was once his secretary?"

"Yes, during the first six months of 1945, on three or four occasions when we had lunch at the Smith House on Memorial dr."

"What were the conferences about?"

"He wanted me to step down and take an associate commissioner's post so the governor could appoint his own man."

"Did he ever mention my name directly?" asked the governor.

"Not in so many words," MacDonald replied.

"Even a chief secretary can go out on his own some times," put in Atty Daniel J. Lyne, chief counsel for the governor.

"How often was the suggestion made and what was your response?" asked Coffin.

"He spoke to me about it on three occasions," MacDonald said.

"The first time I didn't bother to answer him. The next two times I told him I couldn't do that and retain my self respect."

Cross-examined by Lyne, MacDonald said he felt that he had acted in the best interests of the State in all matters, including the Sutcliffe petition.

He denied calling engineers "in-grates" and "pikers" when they protested about Civil Service ratings, and then was asked if he referred to the Civil Service Commission as the greatest racket in the country.

"I said Robert Moses said that: I didn't make the statement myself," MacDonald replied.

Efforts of defense counsel to place in the records a progress report dated April 4 and a report of a special legislative commission complimenting the department for progress in the airport development were defeated by Lyne's objection that they were dated after the charges were made against MacDonald.

Earlier in the day, Gen. Richard W. Hale, director of the division of waterways, testified he spent most of his time on the airport development and that in his opinion it was "progressing rapidly."

He testified bills had not been sent to airlines for landing fees but later returned to the stand to say he had checked records and found that the bills had been sent out March 8.

Four other public works department employees testified that MacDonald always had been co-operative.

Gerald Smith's Aide Jailed for Contempt

CHICAGO, April 12 (AP)—Don Lohbeck of Detroit, publicist for Gerald L. K. Smith, was sentenced today to 30 days in jail for contempt of Municipal Judge John V. McCormick's court.

Smith, head of the America First party, was sentenced to 60 days on a similar charge Monday, the citations stemming from courtroom distribution by Lohbeck to reporters of a Smith statement during the recent trial of Arthur W. Termineillo, Alabama priest suspended for disorderly conduct.

WHY MILLIONS TURN TO CHEWING GUM LAXATIVE

Mild and Pleasant. Works on scientific principle

• Why is Feen-a-mint in chewing gum form? Science says: Chewing your food helps it do the most good. Similarly, chewing Feen-a-mint prepares its fine medicine to give the greatest benefit—flows it gently and gradually into digestive system. Mild! Delicious! Candy-Coated! Children take it gladly when needed. When constipation makes you miserable, chew Feen-a-mint exactly as directed and feel fine again. Contains very medicine many doctors prescribe. 10c, 25c, 50c at drugstores.

HYANNIS, April 12—The distinction of being the first baby born on Cape Cod of a GI overseas bride was held today by the daughter of Mrs. Edward F. Starr of Cedar st., Hyannis. The infant, weighing 4 pounds, 14 ounces, was born prematurely at Cape Cod Hospital, placed in an incubator and was reported progressing satisfactorily.

The mother is the former Yvonne Sorensen, daughter of Dr. Peter Sorensen of Belgium. She arrived in America a month ago.

Black Mart Meat Monopoly Seen

CHICAGO, April 12 (AP)—Senator Elmer Thomas (D., Okla.), chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, declared today there will be no legitimate meat on the market within 30 days unless price controls are removed.

He told a news conference 80 per cent of meat now marketed as "black market" and that OPA has

Argentine Honor

BUENOS AIRES, April 12 (INS)—The Argentine government today issued a special stamp bearing the picture of President Roosevelt as part of many ceremonies on the first anniversary of his death.

"practically given up" on the situation.

"If controls are taken off, the prices to the consumer would not be any higher than they are already paying in the black market," he said. Meat is seasonally short now, but in the fall there would be as much meat as the slaughterers could handle and competition then would put prices back where they should be."

LOGAN, O., April 12 (AP)—This city of 6000 and nearby McArthur will be without telephone service some days.

The Logan Home Telephone Co., currently involved in contract negotiations with the AFL-International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, inserted this advertisement in yesterday's Logan Daily News:

"Due to the ruling of the labor union, with regard to hours and wages, the telephone company will be compelled to discontinue services on Sundays and holidays."

F. E. Burkett, who said he represents 15 newly-organized women telephone operators in negotiations, declared he didn't know what "ruling" the firm meant.

Probe Teachers' Outside Jobs

Mayor Curley has assigned City Auditor Charles J. Fox and Budget Comm. Rupert S. Carven to meet Wednesday at 10 a. m. in the office of School Supt. Arthur

L. Gould to question responsible school heads regarding disclosures that a submaster worked in his spare time as a hotel bellhop, and other teachers at night as porters and doormen.

The disclosures came during a conference held in the mayor's office with four members of the school committee, at which the mayor outlined economies which would slash the $18,212,508 school budget. The committee members agreed to his proposal to cut the budget by at least $1,000,000.

DOROTHY F. MURPHY

Hub Girl Dancer Divorces Singer

Though she was the hooper and he the vocal end of their song-and-dance team, it was he who led her a far from merry dance during their brief marital life, Dorothy Fenton Murphy, (professional name Lynn Page), testified today in winning a cruelly divorce from Jerome Page, now of Bridgeport, Ct.

Dorothy, a statuesque, more than six-foot rhenoid, currently dancing in a New Bedford night club, told Judge John V. Mahoney, in Suffolk probate court she married the singer in Ohio in 1944 and last lived with him July 29, 1945. Her home now is at 21 Revere st., West End.

Life with him was no sweet song, according to her testimony. He was intoxicated, she estimated, about five nights a week and had a habit of hitting her, principally when they argued about money. On occasions when she wasn't working but he was, she stated, she never received from him more than $10 a week, though he earned as high as $85.

Monkeys, Terns, Cobras Arrive

Monkeys—260 of them, chattering and making faces from their cages—eight cobras and a flock of rare oriental terns were included in the cargo of the Ishmian line freighter, Francis Drake, which docked in East Boston today.

The ship came here from Calcutta and Madras, India, via the Suez Canal. During the long voyage 40 other monkeys and 26 cobras died from cold.

Among the ship's 14 passengers were missionaries returning home after long service in India, and three Army officer-couriers carrying typhus research data to Washington.

Gun Toter Goes to Jail

Joseph W. Perkins, alias Joseph P. Fox, 37, Washington st., Dorchester, today withdrew his appeal and accepted a six months House of Correction sentence imposed last month when he was found guilty with Gerald Coyne, 30, Hillside st., Roxbury, on charges of carrying dangerous weapons.

Coyne is also being held in $25,000 bonds awaiting trial on an indictment charging him with the shooting of Joseph Barresi, Chelsea st., East Boston, last September.

Perkins and Coyne were arrested while they were sitting in a taxicab on Northampton st., on March 5. Police said they found a loaded German automatic and an American-made gun on the seat of the cab.

Secret German War Equipment Exhibited in London

AN EXHIBITION of secret German war equipment was opened at Earl's Court in London recently and proved to be of the greatest interest. These pictures show some of the demonstrations which took place. Perhaps the most interesting exhibit is a "black" searchlight, used by snipers at night or to locate enemy tanks in the darkness. The searchlight sends out a beam of infra-red rays, invisible to the eye, which lights up the ground to a maximum distance of 800 yards when viewed through a special telescope. The radar beam system for keeping a pilot on his course was used to direct aircraft on to a pin-point target, but jamming by our own radar caused German airmen to lose confidence in the system.

FIRST THINGS FIRST

PRESIDENT TRUMAN devoted a considerable and significant part of his Army Day speech in Chicago to a re-statement of American policy with respect to Latin-American affairs, and thus demonstrated his keen awareness of the importance of these vital relationships.

The President said it is going to be the earnest endeavor of the Government of the United States to accomplish two very important purposes in concert with its Latin-American neighbors.

One of these is to resolve all hemispheric differences peacefully. The other is to present a solid hemispheric front against outside interference or aggression.

"The American Republics propose to settle differences between the nations of the Western Hemisphere as good neighbors, by consultation in the common cause of peace and national well being," said Mr. Truman, "consultation in which all of them will have equal representation."

"The United States intends to join with other sovereign Republics of America in a regional pact to provide a common defense against attack."

This pronouncement recognizes—and virtually acknowledges—that the existing relations between the United States and its neighbors have steadily deteriorated in recent months, and that the fumbling and bungling policies of the Government of the United States are not without fault in the situation.

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States has acted in a particularly high-handed fashion in the case of Argentina.

And it is now in the unhappy position of having to recognize a government in Argentina which it high-handedly and unsuccessfully sought to defeat.

The people of Argentina understandably and quite properly considered the selection of a government THEIR exclusive business, and regarded the American policy as meddling and offensive.

All the Latin-American countries have watched this bungling and futile intervention in Argentina with suspicion.

All of them clearly understood the American objections to the Argentine government.

Most of them granted validity of the objections. But they dispute the wisdom and deny the right of intervention.

If the United States wants the friendship of its neighbors, and wants their co-operation and confidence, it is under compulsion to refrain from even the appearance of exploiting its great size and wealth and power against them.

The United States, being the most powerful of all the American Republics, must be the most forbearing and patient and tolerant among them—if it is not to be suspected of arrogance.

THE AMERICAN FAMILY of nations has the best chance for permanent peace and good will and prosperity and happiness of all the nations in the world.

It has made greater progress toward the fulfillment of this opportunity than any other group of nations.

If there is to be the ultimate and fruitful fulfillment of this hemispheric vision of peace and good will, there must be neither the assumption nor the suspicion of a superior place in the American family by any member of the family.

That is the matter in which the United States is now held suspect by its neighbors.

DANGER AHEAD!

TAX RATE INFLATION is an increasingly widespread scourge in Massachusetts and New England.

One of the latest and most serious sufferers is Dunstable, a town long distinguished for its prudence and conservatism.

Dunstable's tax rate has soared from $30 to $50 per thousand of real estate valuation—a breath-taking increase of $20 in a single year.

This is not the way to attract new homes, new factories and new prosperity.

It is, on the contrary, the short and sure road to ruin.

Of course, there is no reason why the home and factory owners should pay almost the entire cost of a municipal government.

Apartment owners, especially those who have as much as $100,000 invested in jewelry, antiques, art and lavish furniture, should pay their proper share, too.

As matters now stand, the family with a $7000 house will pay Dunstable $350 in taxes.

But the family with personal property worth $70,000 will probably pay NOTHING.

No wonder so many cities and towns are heading straight for bankruptcy.

SONG WRITING: Are the lyrics written to fit the tunes of popular songs or vice versa? That's what a Baltimorean would like to know. The procedure varies. For the smash hits "Oklahoma!" and "Carrousel," the lyrics were first written by Oscar Hammerstein, and then Dick Rodgers fitted tunes to them. For "Show Boat," Jerome Kern first composed the tunes and then the versatile Mr. Hammerstein wrote lyrics to fit them.

THESE DAYS

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS story on April 7 begins with the sentence: "American newspaper readers can now be sure they are receiving news from a great part of the world without censorship."

Then the account proceeds to show how that is not altogether correct. Soviet Russia, Poland and Hungary and other areas continue to censor outgoing as well as incoming news reports, for press and radio.

As, from the American standpoint, news from Russia is of primary importance, it is to be noted that the precise truth of the Associated Press conclusion depends upon a definition of "a great part of the world."

Let us look further: The Russian-occupied zone of Germany is censored. Finland is censored occasionally. Romania is held by Russia but there is no direct censorship.

In Albania, dispatches are transmitted through Allied military channels without Albanian supervision.

In Austria, outgoing dispatches are channelled through the Army Public Relations section.

The A. P. says, "much news must be sent without attribution or qualification," which are fancy words for military control and censorship.

In GERMANY, the press is under strict Allied supervision. News in the Soviet zone is pre-censored.

Although foreign correspondents, outside the Russian zone, are free, news taken from German publications is censored.

In Hungary, the law forbids statements detrimental to the government, whether true or untrue. The Associated Press has this to say about Romania:

"Newsmen from bordering nations such as Turkey have sometimes been unable to clear even material which had appeared in the local press because the censor held that it might create a bad impression in their homelands."

In Spain, although correspondents are not subject to censorship, they are kept from news sources.

In Yugoslavia, correspondents are subject to punitive action in case of the transmission of "false" dispatches, the Tito government determining what is false — which does not prove anything.

WHAT THIS A. P. report means is that in many countries there is still direct or indirect censorship of foreign correspondents; that in many countries where foreign correspondents are free, local newspapers are censored and sources of news are controlled.

American newspapers do not state anywhere in news stories or do the radios announce that a story is or is not censored, and therefore the reader does not know at the moment when he is actually reading the story whether it represents the judgment of the news by the correspondent or the censor.

It would be a simple matter to include the word (CENSORED) in every account when that is so.

No decent American newspaper knowingly suppresses the news. As a business proposition, suppression does not pay.

As a matter of fact, no American newspaper can successfully suppress a story, as its competitor will print it; it will appear in some other city, in a weekly magazine or on the radio.

The business of the American newspaper is to build circulation, and continued attempts at suppression kill circulation.

IF THEN a story is universally suppressed or universally distorted, the fault usually is with some government. The American government, which never went in for heavy censorship, has, for many years, been guilty of deceitful propaganda and the poisoning of news at the source.

Two vicious habits have appeared in American journalism: one is "off the record" recitals at press conferences; two is the mimeographed sheet handed out by departmental press agents.

When a "big shot" in government gives reporters an "off the record" story, he is usually attempting to suppress news which any first-class newsmen should be able to pick up in a dozen places.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES often issue distorted stories which being universally published are believed to be true.

It would be advantageous if all such published accounts reveal the source of information whenever the source is wholly or in part responsible for the statements. Official distortion is a method of censorship.

What is here said about the press, goes doubly for radio. That instrument of expression is completely under government censorship through the indirect method of licensing.

HOLLYWOOD, April 12—Robert Walker gets the role of Maj. Jeff Nixon in M-G-M's atomic bomb story, "The Beginning or the End," but that isn't what I want to tell you about Bob this morning. The news is that right after he finishes, he goes immediately to London to star in "Mr. Menafee," one of the first movies Metro will produce in England.

For a while it was touch and go whether or not Walker would make this trip. But if you ask me, I think he wants to go. He isn't a happy boy and hasn't been since his marriage to Jennifer Jones broke up. Maybe he is wise in wanting to get away for a little while. A change of places and faces often works wonders in this business of putting out a torch.

YOU CAN JOKE all you want to about those quickies Bill Pine and Bill Thomas make for Paramount—the two Bills do, too. But the profits they pile up are no joke, sister, and so I am not surprised that their contract has been extended for two more years, a year and a half before it comes due in August of 1947. Count on your fingers and that takes them up to 1949 producing what Bill Thomas calls "suddenlys"—that's a tone classier than "quickies." But just by the way of keeping the Bills happy—Para is tossing them a prize in a movie called "Albuquerque," which will cost three times the budget of the average Pine and Thomas picture. It isn't exactly a Western but deals with the hauling of silver from the New Mexico mines and it will be made in Technicolor.

FAR BE IT from me to hint that 20th didn't know what they had in Cathy Downs until Somerset Maugham called her "the prettiest girl in Hollywood" but she's really been zooming since then. The other day John Ford and Darryl Zanuck took a look at Cathy in "Dark Corner" and before they came out of the projection room they forgot all about the other 22 actresses. Darling Clementine" and the title role is all Cathy's. This part was originally set for Jeanne Crain but there are other plans for her. Cathy plays Henry Fonda's sweetheart, and, of course, the other romantic team is Victor Mature and Linda Darnell.

I GET SO MANY stories on Paulette Goddard's plans I get dizzy trying to straighten them out. Just a few editions ago, Paulette was leaving for London to make a movie for Korda. This morning comes word that she's staying in Hollywood for the co-starring role opposite Gary Cooper in Cecil B. De Mille's long-time-getting-started, "Unconquered." Several years ago Gary and Paulette made "Northwest Mounted Police" for C. B. La Goddard will play Abby, a gal who is convicted of murder in England and deported to slaves in the "Colonies"—the good old U. S. to you and me. Gary, of course, is Cris Holden, the daring militiaman of 1763 who loves the gal.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Artie Shaw blew back into town right on the heels of all the rumors that he and Ava Gardner are enjoying a "trial separation." Evidently, he hadn't heard about this because he went to their home immediately and if he and Ava aren't happy they gave a good imitation of it—even to Ava canceling a luncheon date with a gal friend because she wanted to be with Artie. I do hear, however, that he is planning to sell their big home here and buy two smaller places, one in Hollywood and one near New York, where he will spend six months out of every year making records. Artie says he's through barnstorming around the country with a band.

HERE'S ONE for the books: Bill Powell, Irene Dunne, the kids, and everyone else who has had his or her hair dyed red for "Life With Father" have been ordered not to go near a swimming pool while the picture is being made! Perc Westmore, who dyed the carrot tops, has told them that the chlorine in swimming pools will turn their tresses bright green and you can imagine what it would do to Lindsay and Crouse if the "family" showed up with Kelly green tresses instead of the famous red.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Don't make any bets that it is cold with Clark Gable and Dolly O'Brien. She is in town and they were at a quiet table for two at the Trocadero last night. I'm very sorry to hear that Clair Dodd, who is Mrs. Ilymie Cooper in private life, lost her baby at birth; the gentleman who has been having the most dinner dates with Virginia Cherrill in Hollywood is Ramon Hakim; Jimmy Stewart says that if he shows up a shadow of his former self (what do you mean "shadow" Jimmy?) it's because he and Donna Reed have been knocking themselves

It's engraved "Maxie Rosenbloom," the "Greatest Actor in the World;" Ella Rames and Rod Cameron, who are making "The Run Around" together, aren't giving each other that treatment in private life. They are a luncheon and dinner duet almost daily.

DAN DUREYA will soften up the fans by playing a piano solo in his next picture; it's high time somebody brought cute little Diana Lewis, Bill Powell's wife, back to the screen after a two years' absence. Hal Roach is testing her for "Here Comes Trouble," between Para movies, Bill Edwards goes down to San Pedro and works on a live bait boat to keep in trim; Estelle Taylor's part in Arthur Grossman's New York show, "Legend of Lou," will keep her in the same town with Jack Dempsey; Rudy Vallee couldn't take his eyes off Mary Ann Nyberg, the new honey in his life, at Billingsley's, and while we're getting around the night spots, George Jessel was at a ragside table when his ex, Lois Andrews, opened at Sissy Marx's. These editors and publishers were on their way to look over the occupation zones, Secretary Patterson, who is a very judicial fellow having previously been a judge, said they would undoubtedly see many things but that he would not give any previews because he wished them to go abroad with an open mind.

Secretary Patterson

Assistant Secretary of War Howard C. Petersen said he also desired them to have open minds. The editors and publishers all beamed and looked very open-minded, which is quite a spectacle viewed at close range.

However, Mr. Petersen continued, there are certain things which a great many people are saying about the occupation and he suggested the tourists check up to see if they are true. "They are saying," said Mr. Petersen, "that the occupied territory is divided up as follows:

"The British have the industry."
"The Russians have the agriculture."
"The Americans have the money."
"And the French have the objections."

Before I could pull myself together and retort that I hoped it would do the same for him, he continued:

"A drunk goes into a bar and asks for a drink. The bartender, a very law-abiding type, says he cannot serve him because it is illegal to sell a drink to a guy who is already slopped up."

The drunk wheedles and coaxes. Finally he says: "If you sell me a drink I will give you a very nice present."

A FIVE-STAR GENERAL has the right to design his own uniform and everything that goes with it. He can even wear a high silk hat and riding britches if he desires.

Gen. George C. Marshall, now our ambassador to China, found all his ribbons and decorations were taking up too much chest room so he had them redesigned. The standard width of a ribbon is about three-eighths of an inch—and Gen. Marshall has five solid rows of them.

So he had each ribbon cut down to less than a quarter-inch in width with the result that five rows do not take up much more than an inch.

GEORGIE PRICE made more than one pair of eyes misty at the Bradford Roof with his lifelike impersonation of the late George M. Cohan. . . . The little actor who doubles successfully as a stock-broker drew the greatest applause of repeated salvos as he pranced around in a perfect takeoff of the Yankee Doodle Dandy. . . . The cane Price swings in his mimicry of the beloved Cohan was one which George M. himself once carried as a prop in such shows as "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway" and "The Yankee Prince."

COHAN GAVE it to the late Gus Edwards (who idolized George M.) and Gus in turn presented it to Price, then a member of the famous Edwards troupe of youngsters who did a revue called "School Days." . . . Eddie Cantor, George Jessel and Walter Winchell were graduates of that fabulous forerunner to later kid-acts.

PRICE IMITATES Jolson, Jessel, Cantor and Cohan. . . . The Cohan bit is the least exaggerated in the repertory, and is probably the best piece of Cohan mimicry being offered today. . . . But the Eddie Cantor imitation is Price's best—an inspired moment of clowning. . . . The Bradford's star prefaces his Cantor imitation with a story which he swears is true. . . . When Eddie reported to Gus Edwards—a nervous and timid youngster with ambition and little talent—he admitted to his boss-to-be that he could neither sing, dance nor act. . . . Gus nonetheless made the quivering youngster sing a song.

YOUNG CANTOR tremulously did the best he could—to the groans and head-shaking of the kindly Edwards. . . . But according to the way Price tells it, Gus was determined to give the boy Cantor a chance at show-business.

SO HE ORDERED Eddie to sing. . . . "While you're singing your song, boy, I want you to run back and forth across the stage," said Edwards. "If the audience starts throwing things then, you will be in motion and they'll be sure to miss you!" . . . Price, of course, may be holding his tongue in cheek each night when he recalls this anecdote. . . . We have never asked him. . . . It would be terrible to us if that story turns out to be fib. . . . For we have never seen the great Eddie Cantor in action while singing his "Susie" number—as he skips across the stage, jumps up and down, rolls his eyes and claps his hands—without recalling the Price imitation and his preface.

I guess it was nearly 20 years ago when we first beheld the Price takeoff of Cantor. . . . Yet its effect has been so marked on this credulous on-looker that we interpret that little half-run across the stage as diversionary tactics to dodge tomatoes, and those eye-rolls from left to right and upward (toward the balconies) as the frightened young Cantor's survey of possible hostile missiles aimed in his direction. . . . And when Eddie has brought his fists together in those little gestures with which he punctuates his songs, we imagine that he is hand-clapping himself for having dodged an old apple. . . . Hence Cantor in action has always presented a plaintive picture to us, and one gets more fun somehow in appreciating the famous comic who rules the Broadway roost so many years from a start that could not have been more unpromising. . . . Price's act is nostalgic and soothing and professional.

SUB-FEATURED to George—but not because they have less talent—are two other acts, each a masterpiece in its catalogue. . . . One is Renee and Maureen Gunsetts, the dancers. . . . Renee, the male half of this bonafide brother-and-sister act, is doing his first show since he got out of the Army. . . . He served three years with the Americans, although he was a French citizen and a French war veteran when he enlisted. . . . He won his citizenship the hard way, on the field of battle. . . . He also won six decorations (of which he begs us to say precisely nothing).

AS FOR the Gunsetts' dancing. . . . There is no more spectacular dancing act in the world than the Gunsetts. . . . They do spins which seem impossible. . . . They have artistry of a high order, particularly in their difficult "Parisienne Rag Doll Dance." . . . These youngsters have matured since we first met them and were able to intercede so successfully in their careers that they got their first bigtime booking (at the Ritz-Carlton Roof).

Teen-Age Draft Ban Proposed

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—Chairman May (D.) of Kentucky of the House Military committee touched off a fight in the chamber today over continuing inductions of 18 and 19-year-old youths.

Opening debate on a committee recommendation for a nine-months extension of the draft law, May said he would offer an amendment to prohibit the induction of anyone under 20.

He said he would submit later army figures indicating there is no need to keep on drafting teenagers and would cite testimony by Gen. Eisenhower that youths under 20 are "not suitable" as occupation forces.

Notables at Rites For Mrs. Connors

A solemn high mass of requiem was sung at St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Jamaica Plain, today for Mrs. C. Louise Connors, 50, wife of Charles A. Connors, Boston business man and chairman of the Board of Narragansett Park.

A delegation of Jesuits from Boston College and many priests from throughout New England attended the mass, celebrated by Rev. Robert T. White, Navy commodore and commanding officer of the Catholic Naval Chaplains Corps. Rev. Francis J. Horgan and Rev. Lawrence D. Ryan, of St. Thomas, were deacon and sub-deacon.

Many state and local dignitaries attended.

Born in Jamaica Plain, Mrs. Connors served as a Boston school teacher before her marriage. Burial was in Holy Hood Cemetery, Chestnut Hill.

Home Garden Forum

By FOSTER H. WEISS

Head of Vegetable Gardening Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School.

Q—What is the best distance to set lettuce plants so that they will head?

A—This depends some on the variety. Iceberg types such as Imperial 44 or Great Lakes should be spaced at least 12 inches each way. Big Boston can be spaced 12 inches between rows and 8 inches in the row.

Q—Does the continued use of nitrate of soda make the soil alkaline?

A—Yes, if used in large quantities. It leaves a residue of sodium which makes the soil alkaline.

Q—What can I do to make my soil more acid?

A—If your soil tests are alkaline, you are liable to be in for trouble. Use sulphate of ammonia as a source of nitrogen and try adding amounts of organic matter.

Q—Can scale be controlled in midsummer by spraying?

A—Spray vines or shrubs about June 10 with volk, 3 tablespoons, and nicotine, 1½ teaspoons, to the gallon. Cover vines thoroughly and repeat about Aug. 10-15.

Q—Can small sprayers or dusters be bought now?

A—Yes. Watch for them at your local dealer's and pick one up before the supply is exhausted.

Q—How long will arsenate of lead keep?

A—Arsenate of lead is not soluble, so it should not deteriorate if held over.

Cease-Fire Plan Stirs Manchuria

KAIYUAN, Manchuria, April 12 (AP)—China's political rift widened perceptibly today in this Communist surrounded, machine-gun-protected city as Gen. Liang Hwa-Sheng told correspondents he would "sweep away" all Communists in a drive to northern Manchuria.

The arrival Tuesday of a cease-fire team of American, Communist and government members served only to worsen the situation. Liang told a press conference he had received no instructions regarding the cease-fire team and declined to discuss its mission.

Legion Chiefs Back Drive For Changes in Vet Policies

By DAN MARKEL
Boston American
Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, April 12—American Legion forces, pressing for revision of the National Service Insurance Act, declared drastic changes are necessary if the policies are to be made as attractive to veterans as those offered by commercial insurance companies.

Proposals to liberalize the present insurance statute, backed by all major veterans organizations, are now pending before the House veterans committee, which is expected to report out a bill embodying them next Tuesday.

Although 11,310,000 World War II veterans have been discharged only slightly more than 2,000,000 have kept up premium payments on their service insurance, it was emphasized.

Legion officials said the present policies are too limited and restricted to appeal to veterans as investment for their own futures. They pointed out the government policies permit payments to beneficiaries only after the veteran's death. In contrast many commercial policies carry endowment contracts.

Legion amendments to the National Service Insurance Act would provide 20-year endowments and endowments at the ages of 60 and 65, payable to the insured.

Thousands upon thousands of veterans would prefer lump sum payments for their dependents instead of monthly allowances. These would be permitted under the proposed Legion amendments to the law.

Legion insurance experts are asking also that insured veterans be permitted to name whom they wish as beneficiaries, instead of being limited to a wife, child, parent, brother or sister, as they are now.

Arson Probe

pect, a 24-year-old South End youth.

This suspect, an Army dischargee and a convicted false alarm ringer, was released after questioning by both Boston and State Police. The latter said they were satisfied he was not in the Back Bay Wednesday morning when a firebug was at work.

Women and girls of all ages have played an important part in the career of Baetz, authorities found.

At the same time, police tracked down a New York girl friend, a staff member of a nationally famed magazine, whom he put aboard a New York train on the evening before the fatal blaze. The girl later telephoned the Baetz apartment to ask him about the costly fire, State Police discovered. They further disclosed they have a letter, written by Baetz and addressed to this girl, which told of "mysterious happenings which they can't seem to control."

Police said the girl may be asked to come here to tell her story. Reporters, who found her at her New York office, could get no statement. She commented her attorney had told her to say nothing.

Baetz disclosed he discovered his unusual talents for pleasing the ladies as a result of a job he had for a while with an exclusive New York lady escort bureau.

He shone from the outset, he admitted in a manner sometimes bashful and at other times boastful, and proved his worth to his clients—both young and old.

Many of them were lonesome girls who wanted to tour the New York night spots and others were dowagers who sought the exciting night life that neglecting husbands never bothered to show them.

"I was told that my education in music, languages and the stage and radio made me a charming escort," he is said to have told police in a most matter of fact recital.

"I did not confine myself to the escort business for long. The contacts I made opened the doors to some of the most fashionable salons in New York. I was invited everywhere; by ladies whose names would bring a lot of eyebrow lifting.

"My only trouble has arisen from too much to drink. Otherwise, everyone tells me I am a perfect gentleman and have very desirable qualities. The women I have met do not forget me. I have letters by the thousands and many pictures, too.

"The lonesome type of woman is the kind that are most cooperative, naturally. I admit that many of them have given me expensive gifts and made no loans. Perhaps some of them have spoiled me, but I have always been gentlemanly, sympathetic and pleasing to those I care for. Under these circumstances they usually will give you most everything."

Investigators have found out that he has photographed some of his finest courting by means of remote control. Pictures taken by cameras concealed in his apartment are said to be extremely revealing.

Such pictures were made, according to his story to investigators, only for his own future pleasure and not to be used in any way embarrass the ladies he entertained.

Although Baetz was sort of a career man as far as the ladies went, he found success in radio and on the stage of summer stock companies, as well as a writer of scripts.

He had a brief Army career at Camp Edwards. He was an enlistee, but recurrence of an old leg injury led later to a medical discharge. He then did his bit by broadcasting propaganda short waves to Germany. This chore brought about his reported kidnapping by Nazi agents in Chicago. FBI agents entered that case, but it later was washed up as a hoax.

But whether in New York or Boston he always was entertaining the ladies. Residents at the swank Beacon st., Brookline, apartment house where he formerly lived recalled that one of his frequent visitors was a woman who always came in an expensive limousine. The chauffeured machine, parked outside, was a subject of gossip among the neighbors.

Murder

has long been a favored haunt for parkers during both the day and night, according to railroad workers, who notice parked cars there frequently from the trains passing near by.

McCarthy was lying on his side when police found him. He was dressed in his railroad work clothes—blue denim jacket, jumper and khaki pants. His peaked railroad cap lay beside the body. Only small change was found in his pockets.

McCarthy's wife, the former Elizabeth Sullivan, was notified at their home of his condition and hurried to his hospital bedside, remaining with him until he died.

Their three children, Judith, 5; Jackie, 2½, and Richard, 1, were being cared for by the victim's mother, Mrs. Maude McCarthy, and his sister, Mrs. Margaret Davis, who lives with them in Newcastle rd. He is survived by another sister, Mrs. Martha Williams, of Main st., Watertown.

Overcome with grief, Mrs. McCarthy was unable to shed any light on the killing. She told police her husband left home yesterday at 8:30 a. m. on his day off, telling her he was going to take some shirts to the laundry. She added that it was not unusual for him to remain away from home on his day off.

Mrs. McCarthy reported he had expected a call to go to work late in the day. She said she received a telephone call from his office at 8:30 p. m.—about the time he was found unconscious—telling him to report for work.

"I'm going out to get some air," were his last words to her when he left home, Mrs. McCarthy declared.

The wife said she had no idea where he might have gone. She emphasized that he was a good family man, that he did not gamble and was not in any trouble. She said he had no enemies.

Dist. Atty. Edmund R. Dewing, notified of the shooting at his Wellesley home, ordered State Det. Lt. William H. Delay to take over the investigation with Wellesley Police Chief Ernest Fisher.

Later Det. Capt. Joseph Ferrari and Det. Michael Cullinane joined in the probe.

Early today, State Police broadcast a message asking the public's help in locating the death car.

The victim, a graduate of Brighton High School, served in the National Guard before the war and in September, 1942, went to work at the Bethlehem Hingham shipyard as a trainee in the sheet metal department.

Company records showed he was discharged in February, 1944, for absenteeism while employed as a first class metal worker.

He obtained employment a month later with the Boston & Albany as a spare locomotive fireman and had worked there since. His last tour of duty was Wednesday evening, when he worked until 11:30 on a switch engine in the Beacon Park yards in Allston.

Harold Bennett, road foreman, said he was a good and conscientious worker.

WAC to Seek Congress Seat

Before leaving Washington to-day for her home in Vinal ave., Catherine E. Falvey, former member of the Massachusetts Legislature, to which she was twice elected, announced she will file April 23 as a candidate for nomination for the 11th Congressional District seat now held by Mayor James M. Curley.

After nearly four years of service, Maj. Falvey recently returned from Nuernberg, where she was chief of the analysis section of the international division, American counsel, at the trial of Nazis war criminals.

Previously she was in the inspector general's office in the War Dept.

Passover Feast Begins Monday

The first observance since the war of the festival of the Passover, commemorating the flight of the Jews from Egyptian bondage, will be ushered in at sundown Monday with special services in all Greater Boston temples and synagogues, followed by the Seder services in the homes.

The festival will be observed for eight days by orthodox Jews and for seven days by the reformed Jewry. Matzo or unleavened bread, will be eaten in keeping with the Biblical story of how the Jews were forced to take unleavened bread with them in their haste to escape.

Today, Jewish housewives were busy preparing the special Passover dishes to be served during the observance. On the morning of the holiday all first-born males will assemble in the synagogues, while the Seder services in the homes will be held two nights, Monday and Tuesday.

The festival will be observed as full holidays Monday and Tuesday, April 16 and 17, and Monday and Tuesday, April 22 and 23. The intervening days are half-holidays.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Deadline Nears in Zone Oratory Race

By BERT FORD

Less than two weeks remain now before the eastern zone finals will be held here in a contest which, in the Boston local finals, was so closely contested the judges admitted after long deliberation it was a "photo finish."

The contest was on a subject which both high school and college groups in the Boston areas admitted was worth the study, win or lose. Subject of the contest was "Andrew Jackson, Seventh President of the United States."

Both eastern zone and national finals will be held in Boston Latin School, and because of the limited space in the school auditorium, tickets for students, their friends and families will be issued. These tickets, free of charge, may be applied for, as early as possible, to Oratorical Contest Editor, Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston. The two winners of the local finals have won, along with a $250 Victory Bond each, the privilege of competing in the eastern zone finals on April 24 at Boston Latin School, and beyond that lies the hope of victory in the national finals, also in Boston Latin School, on May 2.

The winners are William A. Burke of Mohan st., Everett, of Staley College of the Spoken Word, a veteran of World War II, and in the high school group, Ronald Weyand, 17, of Waban rd., Quincy, of Boston College High School, who only a few days ago won an oratorical contest in his own school, also on the subject of Andrew Jackson.

To the runners-up in both college and high school groups their awards in Victory Bonds will be mailed out today. And to all contestants, to the heads of their schools and to the judges in the contest, letters of appreciation for their interest and co-operation will be sent.

In the eastern zone finals the Boston champions will meet, among other winning students, the two top orators from New York. The two, chosen from more than a thousand contestants, are Anthony J. Bivona, 17, a senior at La Salle Academy, representing the high school winner, and John J. Saal, 21, of Brooklyn, a junior at St. John's University. Bivona hopes to enter the U. S. Military Academy next fall, and Saal is training to be a teacher of history.

For the visiting students from the cities throughout the eastern zone, to whom Boston will be host, there will be special entertainment provided, and at Boston Latin School during the contest music will be provided by Ruby Newman's famous band, with Newman and his musical arranger, Sammy Eisen, in a special personal appearance from New York.

Other entertainment will include the Girls' High School Glee Club of 80 voices, conducted by Joseph H. Gildea, assistant director of music in the Boston public schools. Edward Illingworth will be accompanist.

Smart Set Afternoon Wedding

By BETTY ALDEN

POST DEB JOAN BURR WALLACE becomes the bride this afternoon of Robert Warren MacPherson of Cambridge who recently returned from a long tour of duty in the Army and has resumed his studies at Harvard. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren MacPherson of Brattle st.

The Rev. Samuel Lindsay is marrying the couple at a 4 o'clock ceremony in the Brookline Baptist Church with a reception at the home of the bride's stepfather, Mr. Roger P. Clemmons, Chestnut Hill rd. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. L. of 11's Burr Wallace and the late Mrs. Catharine W. Clemmons.

Given in marriage by Mr. Clemmons, Joan is wearing bridal satin with a sweetheart neckline, long fitted bodice and Chapel length train. Her toilet veil is attached to a satin Juliet cap, and she is carrying stephanotis and lilies.

The honor attendants are her sister, Marilee Wallace, and Mrs. Samuel P. Baugh 2d (Barsha Powers) of Jamestown, R. I. The bridesmaids are Mrs. Harry L. Gayer, Jr. (Dorothy Garritt), Cordelia MacPherson, sister of the groom; Marie Emmott, Mrs. Harry L. Gayer, Jr.

Woonsocket; Margery Watson, Newtonville; Barbara Connolly and Emily Johnson of Marblehead. The maid of honor is wearing primrose yellow satin fashioned in early American period style, with a headress and bouquet of pansies. The others are in similar costumes of ice blue satin.

Lt. George Edwin Brown, Jr., of Cambridge is best man and the ushers Frank M. Gring, Harry L. Gayer, Jr., Thomas Moseley, Charles Coolidge, Stephen P. Parsons, William B. Allyn and Lt. Robert T. P. Storer, Jr.

Bob and Joan will live at the Hotel Continental where they have taken an apartment. She attended Rogers Hall and Garland School. Bob graduated from Belmont Hill before entering Harvard. He was in the Field Artillery 31 months.

TRAVEL DEPT.—After the festivities surrounding today's wedding in which they are usher and bridesmaid respectively, the Harry L. Gayers, Jr., are leaving Sunday to live in Cincinnati where he is attending the university. Since "Bud's" release from the Air Corps he and Deede and their infant daughter Wendy have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall Garritt of West Newton.

Another popular couple leaving Boston is Col. and Mrs. George Dwight Morgan, Jr., who have made their home on Brattle st., Cambridge, for the past four years. Col. Morgan served at the Boston Port of Embarkation in the important position of superintendent of the water division. They recently purchased a home in Richmond, Va., where Col. Morgan is in business with his dad, and are taking off this evening

Jittercows

FARMINGTON, Minn., April 12 (AP)—When Ernest Sprute walked into his dairy barn and found his cows doing the rumba—without benefit of music—he became suspicious.

He investigated and found a short circuit on a line that led from a nearby water pump to the metal stanchions. The cows stopped their stomping after Sprute shut off the current.

Lot of Vets 'I-S' In the Draft Now

Quizzed in police lineup today concerning a fight at a cafe party, a 27-year-old North End Army veteran was asked by Lt. James V. Crowley what his present draft status is, and the reply was, "I-S."

"What does I-S mean?" bit the lieutenant, and the North End answer: "One Civilian."

The man was one of five ex-GIs who monopolized the lineup. He and a friend, discharged from service in January, were pointed out as assailants of a Roxbury man robbed in a cafe fight.

Two Dorchester vets, each of whom served more than 32 months in the Navy, were questioned concerning the attempted robbery of a taxicab driver at knife point. One said the knife incident was "only a joke," but police held them for court.

Vet Can't Choose Between Them

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

"I was discharged from the Marine Corps about a month and a half ago. My problem is this. You see, I'm in love with two girls. I had a lot of plans for this one, but when we went out she acted quite cold toward me, so I started going out with this other one. She always acts nice and time just goes by so fast when I'm with her.

"But now I found out that the first girl really loves me, and I like both of them very much. I'd hate to hurt either one of them, but I'm afraid to go back with the first girl, so I'm still going out with the second, and the first girl really loves me and she feels awful hurt and I feel awful because I hurt her.

"My buddies tell me that I'm making a decision too soon. What should I do, Miss Fairfax? I like both of them equal. Should I go back with the first one, or should I just go with both of them and different ones to find out who I really like?"

"Mixed-up Marine."

The strategy of love is a lot tougher to figure out than the strategy of war, isn't it, "Mixed-up Marine?" Looks as if your retreat might have been a bit too precipitate in the first place, and evidently in an unprepared position. Perhaps you ought to have held that first position a bit longer.

But in any event, it sounds as though you've already got the answer pretty well figured out yourself. That is, it would be much wiser, at this point, to go out with both girls, and some others, too, for a while before you make up your mind about any one of them.

So just take it easy for a few months more, and don't concentrate too hard on any one girl, no matter how nice she is, or how much she seems to love you, or how fast the time flies when you're with her. Take a lot of them out and have a good time with them all. When you really fall in love with one of them, you'll know it. You won't have to ask anybody to help you make up your mind.

Vitamins In Greens

By MARTHA LEE
Household Editor

AMONG THE GREENS now plentiful are cabbage, broccoli, spinach, escarole and lettuce. In a few weeks it will be time to keep an eye open for wild greens known to be good eating in springtime—dandelion, lamb's-quarters, plantain, poke, purslane, wild chicory and dock. However, you will find some cultivated dandelion greens in the market right now. They are leafier and more succulent than the wild variety.

Greens are rich in vitamin A and good sources of vitamin C and iron, and we should eat more of them. As a matter of fact, authorities tell us that the average American could eat as much as 50 per cent more green and yellow vegetables than he does.

Use green vegetables fresh—the fresher the better, for vitamins disappear as vegetables wilt and wait. If you must hold them for a day or so, keep green vegetables cool, damp and lightly covered. Pile loosely to prevent crushing. Wash quickly, never soak, and lift from water to free from sand and grit.

Here is a suggestion for a cooking green vegetables:

VEGETABLE OMELET

Adding a cooked green vegetable to the egg mixture for an omelet, before cooking, makes a tasty omelet. If you wish, you may spread the cooked vegetable on the top of the omelet after it has set but before it is rolled onto a hot platter to serve. Have the vegetable drained and finely chopped, and use the vegetable juice in place of milk or water in mixing the omelet.

Cake Makeup Teen-Age Delight

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

MOTHERS WHO vainly protested against Susy's use of a cake makeup... which took the bloom off her "rose" will give the go-ahead signal for an outstanding member of a whole new glamor-makeup family especially designed for budding youth as well as youth in bloom.

Teen-age girls will squeal with delight at the wonderful sheen a new milk protein-based makeup gives... a cake makeup posed on an entirely new formula that definitely will not dry the skin and make a girl look as though she had just returned from a safari on Sahara.

Mothers will "steal" it off the dresser "just to try it" and then become devotees. From time immemorial, milk has been favored by famous beauties. Anna Held started the trend when she caused a furore taking a bath in milk. And now comes a milk-toned cake makeup for the modern woman.

It provides a lovely, smooth finish that is daytime and evening facial flattery. And just imagine walking around with your face filmed in milk... the softest, kindest fluid in the world. It comes in four lush shades... peach, pink amber, beige or suntan... all fragrances with a delightful, crushed-flower scent.

For the name of this new cake makeup with a milk protein base, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, Monday through Saturday, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Flowing Lines Kinder to Figure—Armour

By Ruth Mugglebee
Beauty and Fashion Editor

Victorian Quaintness

GOOD OLD NAVY! Spring just wouldn't be spring without it ... without its stabilizing, neutralizing setting for the kaleidoscopic spring-flower colors in clothes and accents. But this season ... navy is not only the traditional standby ... an intantizing as the teasing sun.

There isn't a woman this side of heaven who hasn't ... at some time in her young life ... worn a navy frock and loved it beyond words. There's something about navy ... and not the bell-bottom boys either ... that basically serves fashion instincts. That's why navy has been such a staple style color these many, many years ... ever since clothes became ... literally and figuratively ... a feminine consciousness.

There was a time ... sad but true ... when navy went into an inexplicable decline ... became synonymous with dowager dutiful dress. But the fashion wind has changed ... the style stars are out ... and good old navy again emerges triumphantly in resplendent modish glory. Long may it shine!

And Charles Armour ... whose fertile imagination has inspired some of the choicest and most wearable suits and dresses ... is in no small way responsible for the navy trend. He feels that navy is the most logical basic costume color for spring. And to prove his contention ... he has created some navy sheer crepe dresses that are sheer joy for wear ... fashion excursions of the finest.

They simulate the new softness ... are true to the fluid freedom of a more feminine silhouette ... and are beruffled for beauty or draped for adroitness. In any event ... they sound a kiss of death for wartime rigidity in clothes.

(Tomorrow's Designer: David Crystal)

THE EASING up of L-85 has permitted designers to employ drapes and ruffles in Spring 1946 costumes.

They can not use as much fabric as they might want to, but nevertheless the clothes are more fluid ... the slim, straight skirt and tight sleeve is a thing of the past.

These softer clothes are more feminine and certainly more becoming to the average American woman, who has a good figure but is by no means perfectly proportioned. The flowing lines of spring styles are kinder to the imperfect figure than severe slim-hipped styles of the war years.

Navy is the most logical basic costume color for spring. Long sleeved or short ... beruffled or plain ... it is neat, smart and especially handsome with white accessories.

Charles Armour

Designers
Dress
You
for Spring

VICTORIAN in look but vigilantly smart in effect is this beautiful sheer navy crepe ... another Charles Armour spring intuitive for the fashion-wise which rates an A-plus from us. The Victorian yoke ... ruffled in one with short capelet oversleeves for play-over-play softness ... gives quaintness to the frock ... interestingly belted with loops to accent low waistline skirt fullness. The demure, covered-up neckline with the "goody-good" white pique collar so tiny and sensitive is the feminine touch. This is one of those "prophetic in feeling" dresses that has sumptuous simplicity for its complex. It is perfect foil for the sky-reaching bonnet of white straw ... faced with navy and navy-bow trimmed.

It pleasantly hints of the future when designers ... released from governmental restrictions ... will give full vent to their talents and feelings of liberation fashions ... with yards and yards of fabric frilled into ruffles, elaborate draping and rolling waves of skirt.

Boston American, April 12—47

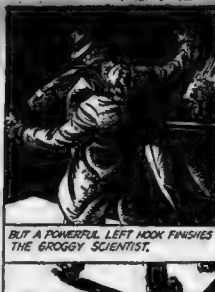

WATERMELON is summertime succulence ... but as the motif of this Charles Armour two-piece print dress. In red, green and black ... true watermelon colors ... it is the "livable and lovable" type. Its bodice ... banded around the neck and buttoned down the front ... tucks into a dirndl skirt with side-slit pockets and self-fabric waistband.

INDISPENSABLE navy and in sheer crepe is utterly charming. Here we have Charles Armour's imaginative version of a dress that's got "everything." There's hipline interest in the draped pegtop pockets ... jutting out with insinuation ... and bodice beauty in the tucking across the bosom ... softly centered with a bow of the fabric. And the provocative neckline is second-glance stuff.

HALF-STUNNED, RIP GRAPLES WITH HIS ADVERSARY... HIS FINGERS THINE ABOUT THE SCARRED WRIST...

Prisoners Face Income Tax Quiz

DENVER, April 12 (INS)—Federal and state income tax officials eyed Colorado State prison inmates today as a source of revenue, following disclosure the leather goods business at the penitentiary was a $500,000-a-year industry.

U. S. Dist. Atty. Thomas J. Morrissey said extensive FBI investigation disclosed one convict received a gross of $9,000 last year as his share of the business.

New arrivals are set up in business by the old-timers—for a percentage of the profits—and some of the more enterprising convicts have as many as 50 employees.

Income tax officials said some convicts have been filing regularly for years, but there was no check at the prison to tell if all are complying.

Truck, El Train Crash Ties Beacon St. Cars

Beacon st. traffic in Brookline was tied up briefly today following collision of a south-bound, two-car El train and a truck at Beacon and Kent sts.

Fred Courn of Commonwealth ave., Back Bay, operator of the truck, and two streetcar passengers claimed to have received slight injuries.

BUT MOTHER... IF DIAPERS ARE DRIED INDOORS, WON'T THEY BE DINGY AND MUSTY?

NOT IF YOU USE CLOROX. IT MAKES DIAPERS SNOWY-WHITE, FRESH, SANITARY WHETHER THEY'RE DRIED INDOORS OR OUT!

AND TOO, CLOROX IS EXTRA-GENTLE. IT'S FREE FROM CAUSTIC AND OTHER HARSH SUBSTANCES... PURE, SAFE, DEPENDABLE!

MOTHERS of small babies especially welcome Clorox in laundering diapers. For diapers are a problem every day... and the days are not always clear, warm and sunny. That may mean indoor drying... so, to prevent mustiness, use Clorox. Of course, Clorox is a favorite of millions of housewives when white and color-fast cottons and linens are dried outdoors, too... It assures snowy-whiteness (brightens fast colors), makes laundry fresh, sanitary. Clorox removes stains, too... even scorch and mildew! Clorox has many other household uses, it disinfects, deodorizes, removes stains in kitchen and bathroom routine cleansing. Directions on the label.

A&P is in Complete Compliance with Government's Emergency Wheat Order

We are cooperating in every way possible with the U. S. Department of Agriculture's regulations for the conservation of wheat...to make this essential food available in greater supply to the devastated nations of the world. Some of your favorite brands and varieties of wheat foods may not be available...and others may be slightly changed in ingredient content. However, everything which we offer to you will be as excellent in food value as ever.

We must all remember that the emergency regulations are only temporary...and are in the interest of a very humanitarian cause, to stave off starvation of millions.

Smash Finish Show Packs RKO

A stage show that pyramids to a slick, smash finish is presently filling the RKO-Boston to capacity. Tying for first place in the favor of the theater's paying guests are Henry Youngman's Two Blue Fishes and Vagabonds quartet showings.

Youngman's eyes would seem to be as unimpaired as a baby's cry but there all resemblance ends. He is hep, this Youngman, to the Hub's ancient traffic snarls and all the other city headaches that keep the Old Lady in Bombazine from ever being snug and ailing from an excess of self-esteem. His glib delivery keeps it all in a spirit of good fun.

The Vagabonds, a male quartet, provide their own accompaniment on two guitars, a bass violin and what has been aptly tagged a stomach steinway.

Roughhouse partners rhythm, as the boys give with "Angelina," "Dark Eyes" and "You Are My Sunshine." Imitations of that successful kid from Brooklyn, Danny Kaye, also aid in putting the Vagabonds across with the customers unanimously. You'll be seeing them soon in Paramount's film version of radio's "People Are Funny."

Another favorite on the bill is the delectable, dolovely, Hollywood's Jean Parker. She puts over the song, "Hollywood," another number about wolves and, last but not first with the customers, a gay-nineties song which she warbles while doing a hubba-hubba provoking cancan.

Radio's Mr. District Attorney, who would be Jay Jostyn, won his case with his effective recital by an imaginary World War I veteran who does not want what happened to him to happen to Joe, Jr., a World War II veteran.

Another smart act is the one turned in by the Nelson Sisters, an eyeworthy pair of aerialists who look cute while they risk their pretty necks 20 feet above stage level. Before, in between and concluding this fleet show Larry Flint and his orchestra make nice music together.

And, believe it or see for yourself, your reporter gandered for a second time the RKO Boston's three-star holdover picture, "The Spiral Staircase." The co-starring Ethel Barrymore, Dorothy McGuire and director Robert Siodmak have made a Grade-A thriller.

The first piano quartet in original and brilliant interpretation of the classics.

"Boston After Dark," by George Holland, a regular feature in the American.

Dialogue in a Taproom, or, Sport Scholarship Apology

By AUSTEN LAKE

THE UPSTAIRS TAP ROOM at the University Club was deserted except for a corner table where a middle-aged Harvard alumnus was arguing with an ex-Fordham halfback on the advisability of spoiling potential millhands and engine oilers by exposing them to college athletic education. The Harvard man argued that the sport scholarship system of taking whiskey schoolboys and teaching them non-essential subjects for the sake of their muscular talents tended to create a misfit type of white collar worker.

"After graduating they are lost in artificial surroundings," said the Harvard man.

The Fordham man, faintly gray about the temples, sells insurance in gross lots. He said slowly, "I was young not so long ago..."

The Harvard man said, "Education is either a privilege or a poison."

"I was born in a downtown brick row," said the Fordham man. "The El ran opposite our second story and the tenements were crowded with families of buck-toothed, freckled and unwashed kids..."

The Harvard man stirred his beer and said, "The grown man is mentally no better than the adolescent boy..."

Fite on a City Dump

"WE HAD OUR VICES," SAID the Fordham man. "We used to wallop the sides of salophones in dark hallways and catch the nickels as they spouted from the ruptured coin boxes. And the pie wagons from the wholesale bakeries made rounds of the neighboring delicatessens in early morning and we used to copy patterns of the padlocks and open the wooden curbstone chests where the drivers left piles of custard, meringue and apricot pastries, and maybe a gunnysack of sugar rolls."

The Harvard man said, "At best culture is never more than a surface gloss."

"We were pretty tough bucks," said the Fordham man. "And it is a wonder that more of us didn't get fledge away in the precinct squeal-ledger or catch stretches in that fabulous place at Concord. There were a couple of pioneer burglars in our crowd and sometimes of a summer's evening they would steal autos of that period, like Saxons and Stanley Steamers, and go chain driving around till the engines died from lung trouble."

The Harvard man said, "There should be an aristocracy of brains in every college."

"There was an old city dump near an abandoned cemetery," said the Fordham man, "and a kind of perpetual autumn haze of smouldering paper and decayed matter swept across the flats where our set of apprentice picklocks sometimes played crude games of football with another set of indentured porch-climbers and skinned our knees on theanders and gouged bits of bottle glass out of our shins."

"A scar-faced ex-fighter who had played some football for the Pleasure A. C. used to run a barroom near the dump and sometimes when business was dull and no grifters were hoisting thumbies of hooch in the dank stench of his shack, Curly would hang up his apron and come across lots to show us how to crouch with our feet interlocked or how to fling our bodies across a tackler's knees or how to run with our chests curved over our knees."

The Harvard man said, "These synthetic scholarships can only father failure."

"Yes," said the Fordham man, "that was the way it was in our end of town. I was fairly handy with a ball and sometimes when the gang was busy stealing cigars from the Dutchman I would sit on one of Curly's empty beer kegs and watch him snap the nipples off his bottle goods or bounce some barfly's coin on the marble apron of his cash till to test it for legal silver content."

Became Sticker Men

"WHEN HE WASN'T HEAVING SOME pestiferous rumpot through his swinging doors we would talk sports and he'd say, 'Kid, you got the makings. Them hands is fine for passing. You got thick legs and the swing of your hips is natural. You gotta go to college, kid, so you won't be no corner bum. I never had the chance myself.'"

The Harvard man said, "Exploiting athletes for the sake of gate receipts is institutional hypocrisy."

"As I look back," said the Fordham man, "Curly was the ruling influence of my life. Because our crowd of kids was always embroiled with the predatory gangs in adjacent blocks who would come over, or we'd go over there, for a little bottle and rock and bore. Some of us went on to become social nuisances in a serious way. A few experimented with alley breaks and warehouse pilfering and graduated to sticking up gas stations till they got felled away by the state for safe keeping."

"And some turned into harmless, susceptible and useless poolroom and lunch-cart yawners who scavenged what they could from life. And some grew up to be domestic and conscientious with kids and money troubles and are voted respectable, intelligent Americans."

"An athletic education is culture on the cuff," said the Harvard man. "It ruins annual crops of good steamfitters."

"Curly died not long ago," said the Fordham man. "I suppose he didn't rank high in the social scale. But what he lacked in schooling he made up in sincerity. He loaned me my first year's tuition when I went to Fordham and when I graduated he came to the exercises, wearing the first stiff collar of his life. Maybe some of my classmates thought it incongruous that my only guest was a waffle-faced ex-fighter with a nose like a bung starter and a cauliflower ear. But to me Curly was the finest man I ever knew."

"It's like putting a marble polish on a curbstone," said the Harvard man, "and spoiling it for both of us."

Sexton Pins DeGlane Two Falls to One

Frank Sexton retained his claim to the world heavyweight wrestling title by disposing of Henri DeGlane of France, in two out of three falls, in the feature contest at the Arena, last night.

Sexton won the first fall in 11:30, DeGlane the second in 8:32 and Sexton the third and match in 8:49.

Chief Osley Saunooke tossed Gene Bowman, 18:28. Ed McNeill and Stan Karolyi went 20 minutes to a draw and Bob Roberts and Henry Piers did the same.

Greek Runner in Debut Over Cathedral Route

Ellison "Tarzan" Brown, double winner in BAA marathons, and Stanley Kyriakides, Greek plodder who flew here for the annual Patriot's Day test, will make their debuts in the local road-races tomorrow afternoon when they take their places in a field of 82 starters in the 36th Cathedral Club 10-mile handicap affair.

Brown, a winner in '36 and '39 in the Hopkinton to the Hub run, hit the skids as a marathoner after the big splurge, dropping to 21st place in 1943. Then, he virtually dropped out of sports circles although he was fairly regular in filing his entries for various events.

Reports have it that the Naragansett Indian is training industriously for the BAA with serious intent of a tune-up in this Cathedral affair.

Brown, if he's at the starting line, will be one of four scratchmen in the race, sharing the honor with Clayton Farrar, Reddish A.A.; Charlie Robbins, NYMA; and Gerard Cote, Canada. Officials haven't as yet seyed Kyriakides, winner of 5, 10 and 20-kilometer races in war-torn Greece this season.

Bartolo, Spider Garden Go Set

Cal Bartolo of East Boston will defend his N. B. A. featherweight championship against Jack "Spider" Armstrong of Toronto at the Boston Garden May 3, it was announced today by the Goodwin A. C. The bout will be over the championship distance of 13 rounds.

Armstrong has won six fights in a row in these parts, upsetting two promising local youngsters, Buddy Hayes and Jack Harris, in his last two starts.

Bartolo came off the floor to defeat 18-year-old Dennis Fitzrick Brady here a week ago, and later Armstrong will fight Willie Pep in New York in June.

145s Pace Golf Field in England

RICKMANSWORTH, England, April 12 (AP)—George Johnson, a wartime fireman, and A. G. Matthews, diminutive potters bar club pro, led at the midway point in the 72-hole silver king golf tournament today with aggregates of 145.

Richard Burton, British open champion who fashioned a 69 yesterday in the first round, zoomed to a 78 today because of an unruly putter and was fourth with 147 after the first 36 holes of the 72-hole test.

Arthur Lees, stocky Yorkshireman, grabbed the third slot with a 75-71-146 card.

Johnson, two strokes behind Burton yesterday with a 71, had 74 today while Matthews' card showed 72-73-145.

Satin Bathing Suit Fighter's U. S. Goal

LONDON, April 12 (AP)—Next to beating Tami Mauriello in his United States debut at Madison Square Garden, New York, on May 13, Bruce Woodcock, England's heavyweight boxing champion, "simply must" get a satin bathing suit for his fiancée, Nora Speight. "She wants a suit like Actress Carol Landis wears," he smiled as he prepared to depart for New York today by airplane. "I've got to get it at all costs."

Passeau Laughing At Father Time As Oil Farm Waits

KANSAS CITY, April 12 (AP)—That Tung oil farm down in Mississippi is going to have to wait a few more summers on the Chicago Cubs' Claude Passeau—the old pitching arm feels fit for another five years.

The 37-year-old hurler, quiet by nature, was in a talking mood as he cut into juicy steak and took a good look at his baseball future.

Between bites, he recalled that for several years now he had been telling himself he'd soon be heading back to Lucedale, Miss., to see how much oil he could squeeze out of those tung nuts.

"This time a year ago," said Claude, who served up a one-hit world series shutout last fall against Detroit, "I was having so much trouble with my right elbow that I was ready to fold up."

"Funny thing about my tung oil business," he remarked, "I bought the farm (750 acres of which 140 are in tung trees) ten years ago and figured then I could make a good living in baseball for another six years, the time it takes tung to begin producing."

"But I've already beaten my retirement deadline by five years, and right now I feel good for another five."

Passeau passed up an opportunity to forecast his season's winnings but when someone at the table suggested he might better his 1945 record of 179 he didn't argue about it.

Peabody, Saugus Elevens Clash Under Lights

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Schoolboy baseball has officially opened its season but football—strictly on an exhibition scale but played with all the fury of a mid-October Saturday—will take over the spotlight over the week-end with two games on the North Shore virtually opening and closing a brief but spirited campaign.

At Manning Bowl tonight Saugus and Peabody, Thanksgiving Day rivals, will meet under the floodlights while Sunday, Salem will entertain Nashua, N. H., at Bertram Field, Salem.

There's added significance in this game tonight because of the fact that even at this early date, the Tanners of Coach Bill Seegitz are being rated as an outstanding contender for the Class A state championship. Peabody is primarily a football school, as far as sports are concerned, and Coach Seegitz is seeing to it that the school lives up to its reputation.

Peabody has been all-powerful in a reved-up program of scrimmages with practically an all-veteran team taking the field. It seems that the junior varsity of the title outfit of two years back has developed into a well-knit club that has weight, power and speed in its favor.

In the line, there's only one player, guard Bill Vasilios at 155 pounds, who wouldn't qualify as a heavyweight boxer in the ring. Ends Henry Heidler and Ralph Bender just miss the 190-pound mark; tackles Ray Potter and George Kotsirapolos hold top weighed honors at 218 and 195 respectively; guard Ernie St. Paul hits 180 and center George Kardenzis equals St. Paul on the scales.

The backfield of Hercules Harris, captain, Jim Smyrniotis, George Marcos and Harry Baker has what it takes to work behind this smashing forward wall.

Saugus, fielding its first team under Coach Ted Galligan, will have four veterans in its starting lineup—Capt. Andy Forte at center; Ray Dorney at a guard; Irving Campbell at a tackle and Tom Sheehan in the backfield. Back Cashy Harris, returning to the squad, will not play this game but he will be available in the fall.

On paper, the Tanners have a decided edge.

Spring Football Ends at BC for Exams

Authorities at Boston College announced yesterday that Coach Denny Myers will close his spring practice drills next Tuesday so the footballers can prepare for exams.

Joey LaMotta Picked To Win Over Blackwood

By JACK CONWAY

JOEY LaMOTTA was waiting to start for the Boxing Commission's office to weigh in for his 10-round bout with Joe Blackwood at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden tonight. LaMotta appeared to be in perfect physical condition.

"I saw Blackwood fight for about a round once," said Joey. "We were on the same card in a show in New Jersey last summer. From what I saw of Blackwood I would say he is a fast, shifty fellow who throws a lot of punches."

"I shall force the bout from the start, keep throwing punches, and I feel that about the sixth or seventh round I'll catch up with Blackwood. I am a slow starter, and it takes me four or five rounds to get going at my best."

I asked LaMotta how long he has been boxing.

"A few months less than two years," he replied. "I will not be 21 years of age for two more weeks. I used to go to the gym with Brother Jake. I was naturally interested in Jake's ring success, and I attended all of his bouts. I finally starting boxing, and have done all right."

Joey told of his training methods.

"I do four or five miles on the road in the morning when I am training," he said. "I do not punch the light bag or skip rope in the gym. I never did well at either of these forms of exercise, and I devote my time to boxing against the best available sparring partners, punching the big bag and shadow boxing. I like to box six or eight rounds a day when training, and to be opposed by the best possible sparring partners. It does not help one in the least to use stumble hums as sparring partners. In fact, that is one of the best ways I know of not to get fit."

Rooting for Jake

JOEY STATED he is rooting for Brother Jake to win the mid-dieweight crown. He said: "Jake would lick Tony Zale, the champion, while I think he would knock out Rocky Graziano. I have seen all of Jake's fights. When he last fought Sugar Robinson in Chicago, I thought he won. In the actual points scored the officials gave Jake 151 points against 179 for Robinson. Two of the officials gave Robinson a margin, but the third official awarded Jake a big edge.

"I am willing to remain a contender for the title if Jake wins it. Later on Jake will move into the light heavyweight class, and then I can make my title bid. Maybe I am doing some day-dreaming, but I really believe that if Jake and I get the opportunities we'll become champions."

If Joey, seconded by brother Jake, wins over Blackwood tonight he says he will be prepared to meet Coley Welch, Larry Pacino and Al (Red) Priest.

"The Priest bout will be a tremendous money match for Al and myself, and should furnish all kinds of action," said Joey.

LaMotta is a 18-to-8 favorite over Blackwood, who has shown to advantage in Boston rings.

There will be three other 10's at the Garden show. Johnny Cesario, North End, battles George LaRover, Philadelphia; Larry Pacino, Roxbury, takes on Johnny Johnson, New York; Steve Curley, Brockton, meets Enrique Rodea, Mexico City.

Priest vs Donahue

PRIEST, LIKE JOEY LaMotta, has hard opposition ahead before he can get the big money match the latter talks about. Priest will clash with "Jiggs" Donahue of Philadelphia at a Sharkey A. A. show at the Arena on Tuesday night. While not a champion, Donahue has won over some rugged opposition and he will give Priest a severe test.

WCOP Broadcasts Hot "Go" Tonight

Sensational Charley "Chuck" Taylor, who has plenty of what the fans go for, encounters a formidable test when he crosses gloves with Manhattan's Tony Martellano (above) in a welter-weight ten-rounder at New York tonight.

Taylor, a full-of-fight Irishman from Pittsburgh, caused a real stir in fistic circles by the manner in which he trounced Freddie Archer recently. He exhibited instinctive boxing ability and a wide repertoire of punches, plus speed, accuracy and power.

Martellano, a tough, two-fisted boxer, believes in throwing punches from opening going to final bell. In his last start he turned in a major upset by vanquishing the classy Canadian welter, Phil Palmer.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcast Co. and WCOP (1150 on your dial) at 10 p. m.

Veterans Hold Sports Night

American Legion Post 327, Boston's first post composed entirely of vets of World War II, will stage a gala sports smoker tonight at St. Alphonsus Hall, Roxbury.

A pair of stellar ring matches pit Spider Armstrong against Eugene "Red" McIntyre, New England heavyweight champ, and Vinny Doyle, former Golden Gloves champ, against Tommy Moore of South Boston. Ed Shevlin, one of the greatest welterweights of all time, will referee.

Among the sporting celebrities will be Al Julian, basketball coach at Holy Cross; Al McClellan, coach of the Red Sox; Eddie Doherty, hand with Johnny Pesky and Ted Williams. Through the courtesy of the Sox, the American League film, "Play Ball," will be shown. State Commander George Gardner will present to Joseph Devlin, Mission High School orator, a medal, symbolic of the Suffolk County championship in the Hearst Oratorical contest. Devlin was sponsored by the post in the contest.

The committee is headed by John Galvin, assisted by Joseph Costigan, Bernard Fitzgerald, Jim Cuff, John Kane, James McMahon, Louis Wood, Paul Judge, Mickey McHugh, John Egan, Charles Hegrich and Thomas Walsh.

Huskies Tackle Tufts in Opener

Northeastern and Tufts open the intercollegiate baseball season tomorrow afternoon at Huntington Field, Brookline, with neither Coach Herb Gallagher of the Huskies nor Jit Ricker of the Jumbos sure of his starting lineup.

Gallagher, back after three years in the Navy, had his starting team set until yesterday, when second sacker Charlie Curll and outfielder Gerry Sawtelle bumped going after a fly ball. Curll came up with a charley horse and may not be able to play.

Both teams have been handicapped by harsh weather, but Tufts has been fortunate in having a cage. Coach Ricker has had a good chance to look over his fielders and throwers, although he doesn't know much about the hitting ability of his candidates.

Bob Skarda, at second is the only real veteran in the tentative lineup.

The game starts at 2:30 p. m.

Williams Homers in 1st at Fenway

By BILL GRIMES

FENWAY PARK, April 12—Football weather greeted the Sox and Braves when they opened their three-game city series here today. Despite the cold weather, about 5000 fans were on hand when the game started. Dave "Boo" Ferriss was Manager Cronin's choice to open for the Sox, while Billy Southworth picked Ed Wright.

All three games of the series, today, tomorrow and Sunday, are scheduled for Fenway Park.

As far as the customers were concerned, it was a glorious afternoon, what with such prewar favorites as Teddy Williams, Dom DiMaggio, Johnny Pesky, Connie Ryan, Max West and Johnny McCarthy again cavorting around in baseball regalia.

But if the fans enjoyed themselves, the players found it anything but pleasant running into such cold weather after their extended stay in the sunny south. So severely did the ball sting their frozen hands that they wore gloves when they went up for batting practice.

Cronin announced he would use three pitchers, each going three innings. Ferriss was to be followed by Mickey Harris and Mel Deutsch.

Southworth was a little tougher on his Braves. He hinted that the starting Wright be kept in the box as long as he succeeded in fooling the Sox hitters.

FIRST INNING

BRAVES—Ryan fled to Gilbert. West walked. Rowell fled to DiMaggio. McCarthy forced West, Pesky unassisted. NO RUNS.

RED SOX—Roberge threw out Culberson. Pesky walked. Williams homered into the right field bleachers, scoring Pesky ahead of him. Doerr fled to Rowell. Poland dropped DiMaggio's third strike and threw him out. TWO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

BRAVES—Holmes grounded to York. Poland fouled to Culberson. Doerr tossed out Roberge. NO RUNS.

RED SOX—York singled. Gilbert fled to West. McGath hit into a double play, Culler to Ryan to McCarthy. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING

BRAVES—Culler popped to Doerr. Wright singled. Ryan fled to Gilbert. West walked. Rowell singled, scoring Wright. McCarthy singled, scoring West. Doerr tossed out Holmes. TWO RUNS.

RED SOX—Ferriss was safe on McCarthy's error. Culberson fled to Rowell. Pesky singled. Williams singled, scoring Ferriss. Doerr forced Williams. Roberge to Ryan. DiMaggio singled, scoring Pesky. York forced DiMaggio. Culler to Ryan. TWO RUNS.

Milk Prices to Rise

If U. S. Stops Subsidy

If present federal subsidies are withdrawn June 1, milk prices will increase from one to three cents a quart in Massachusetts outside the Eastern city area, Dr. T. G. W. Swonger of the N. E. Milk Producers Ass'n predicted today.

He told the State Milk Control Board an increase of one cent per quart could be expected in April, two cents in July and three cents in October, otherwise milk producers will be unable to stay in business.

5 P.C. Tax Hits New York Racing

NEW YORK, April 12—Mayor O'Dwyer has signed the bill that imposes a new 5 per cent tax on pari-mutuel bets at New York city race tracks. The law becomes effective immediately and first money for the city will come from collections on this afternoon's betting at Jamaica track.

The ceremony of signing was brief and took place in the mayor's office before assembled newsmen. No protests were registered.

The remaining 69 days of racing at city tracks are expected to net New York about 10 million dollars. The wait of five days before the pari-mutuel tax went into effect is estimated to have cost the city some $500,000 in money not collected.

One of the newsmen asked the mayor what about this loss of revenue. Jokingly, the mayor replied: "We'll pick that up on the next long shot."

Find Baby's Body In Dorchester

The body of an infant was found today with head and chest crushed, lying at the bottom of the embankment of the New Haven Railroad tracks at the rear of a dwelling on East Cottage st., Dorchester.

The body, wrapped in a sheet, was found by Edward Keller, 7, East Cottage st.

Mrs. Mary Keller, the boy's mother, called police at the Dudley st. station. The body was removed to the Southern Mortuary where the medical examiner will perform an autopsy.
